DISCOUNT BYNG OF VIMY DIES IN ENGLAND

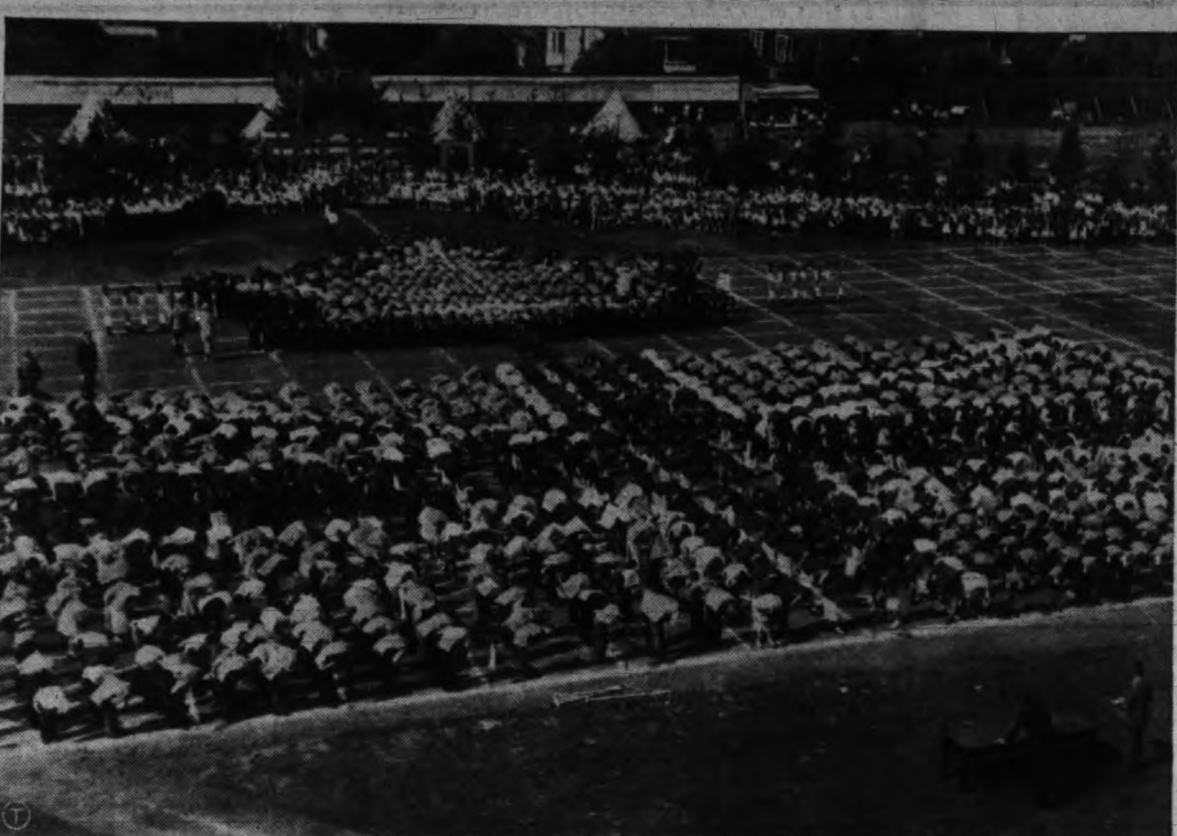

LONGSHORE WORKERS IDLE TOTAL 900

Vancouver Waterfront Is Picketed as Fourteen Ships Delayed

Hiring of Labor Is Chief Issue

Canadian Press
Vancouver, June 6.—Nine hundred deep-sea longshoremen were on strike here to-day and their pickets were stationed at all strategic points along the waterfront as fourteen vessels lay idle for lack of men to load and discharge cargo.
The decision to picket the waterfront was made yesterday evening when members of the Vancouver and District Waterfront Workers' Association discussed the action of the Shipping Federation of British Columbia in refusing to consider the unions when hiring labor.
COMMITTEE NAMED
Spokesmen have announced a strike committee of twenty has been named to discuss the possibility of a general strike.
No attempt had been made at mid-day to-day to load any of the vessels tied up.
New Westminster longshoremen, affiliated with the Vancouver group, have called a meeting for this evening to discuss the situation.
The federation yesterday declared the longshoremen had broken the agreement signed last November when they refused to handle a cargo from Powell River, which the men had declared an unfair port.
Federation officials announced they would hire waterfront workers without discriminating against union or non-union men.
NEW PLAN
Vancouver, June 6.—The shipping federation of British Columbia has signed a working agreement with a new longshoremen's organization, the Canadian Waterfront Workers' Association, and has declared its agreement with the Vancouver and District Waterfront Workers' Association repudiated by the latter body.
Details of the agreement have not been made public, but it is understood it is similar to that made with the V.D.W.W.A. This latter organization has expressed its opposition to the new body, stating it is "determined that no such organization will ever take over our jobs on the waterfront."

GRAND FINALE OF SCHOOL DISPLAY

A living Union Jack and Maple Leaf made up of children from Victoria schools "closed the final scene of the Victoria public schools' pageant at the Royal Athletic Park yesterday afternoon. Boys and girls from the two central schools, 325 in number, with vividly colored capes on their backs, made up the Maple Leaf; in the Union Jack there were 800 pupils from George Jay, North Ward, Sir James Douglas and South Park schools. At a signal from their leader, the children bowed their heads, their capes making figures of solid color for the spectators. The Union Jack is in the foreground, the Maple Leaf in the centre, while in the background reigns Miss Britannia.

Field Marshal Viscount Byng Unable to Rally After Operation Performed at Home in Essex, Eng.; Brilliant Leadership of Canadian Corps in War Is Recalled

Recently Paid Visit to California

Canadian Press
Ottawa, June 6.—The Canadian Government recommended a second term for Lord Byng as Governor-General. It was recalled to-day by Liberal Leader Mackenzie King when he joined with Premier R. B. Bennett and Progressive Leader Robert Gardiner in paying in the House of Commons tribute to the former Governor-General, who died in England to-day.
ALL FEEL LOSS
Ottawa, June 6.—Men prominent in Canada's military and political life to-day joined in paying tribute to Viscount Byng. Hon. Donald M. Butherland, Minister of Pensions and National Health and former Minister of Defense, said:
"I have just learned with the deepest regret, of the death of our old corps commander. To everyone associated with the Canadian overseas forces this word will bring a feeling of personal loss."
His post-war association with Canada as Governor-General endeared him to the civilian population who to-day, with his old comrades, will sincerely mourn his loss.
DUTY WAS WATCHWORD
Hon. Sir Robert Borden, Canada's war-time Prime Minister, said to-day:
"The tidings Lord Byng has passed will be received with deep sorrow throughout Canada. Throughout his life, duty was his watchword. His admiration, as well as affection, for (Turn to Page 2, Col. 3)

Thorp-le-Boken, Essex, Eng., June 6.—Staunch warrior in war and peace, Field Marshal Viscount Byng of Vimy, commander of the Canadian corps in the Great War and later Governor-General of Canada, died at 2 o'clock this morning. He was in his seventy-third year.
Death came to one of the empire's most dogged and gifted of fighters after a last-chance operation. Lord Byng had been falling in health in recent years. He returned only a few months ago from another cure journey to Canada and California.
He developed acute abdominal symptoms Tuesday afternoon, said the official bulletin, and these made an immediate operation imperative. The operation was performed yesterday. "Unhappily, heart failure followed," said the bulletin, and the field marshal died to-day.

Laval May Be French Premier

Failed This Week, But Tries Again to Form Cabinet

Canadian Press from Havas
Paris, June 6.—Pierre Laval, Foreign Minister in the last three governments, to-night accepted for a second time the task of leading France out of its current political impasse and forming a new government.
M. Laval, after many hours of political consultations, previously had abandoned the task when he was unable to get a sufficient majority backing by the different groups in the chamber.
He was called into consultation to-night by President Albert Lebrun after Francois Pietri, Naval Minister in the last two governments, who had been trying to all day form a cabinet, had admitted failure.

Par Shattering Round Puts Washington Pro in Front in U.S. Open

Oakmont Country Club, Pittsburgh, June 6.—Over the same layout he once conquered as an amateur star ten years ago, Roland Mackenzie, now a Washington, D.C., professional, equalled Oakmont's toughest par with a 72 this afternoon and took the lead in the first round of the United States open golf championship.
Mackenzie was the first player in the tournament to catch up with par. Out in 38 and faltering a bit after getting birdies on the first two holes, he clipped a stroke from perfect figures by coming one in 34.
Mackenzie quickly displaced Herman Barrow, White Plains, N.Y., pro, whose 73 had taken a long-standing lead from big Ed Dudley of Philadelphia by a stroke.

B.C. CAMPAIGN IS PREPARED

Pattullo to Advertise and Broadcast on Troubles With Ottawa

With three absent members of the cabinet now on the way home, the provincial government to-day prepared to meet the situation arising out of Ottawa's refusal of a road loan and the inability of the province to secure the money from the financial markets.
Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, will reach the coast from Toronto over the week-end. Hon. F. M. MacPherson, Minister of Public Works, who has been touring the interior, will return to-morrow afternoon and Hon. A. Wells Gray, Minister of Lands, is expected back from the interior on Monday.
For the first time in many weeks the full cabinet will be present for the regular Tuesday meeting next week. Undoubtedly the question of financing the roads and the bridge will be the important point of discussion.
In the meantime Premier Pattullo said he was not ready to discuss further his announcement of yesterday that the projects could be otherwise financed, but declared that he will deal with the whole situation in a radio speech on Friday, June 14, over C.R.C.V. at 7:30 o'clock.
The Premier also plans to carry his fight for British Columbia's rights to the rest of Canada by advertisements in the leading newspapers across the country. These advertisements, he said, will set out British Columbia's position, in an effort to give a more intelligent understanding of the matter to the eastern public especially.

FLAMING WAX BURNS WOMAN

Mrs. W. Wiberg in Hospital After Accident; Sixth of Body Burned

With one-sixth of her body covered with severe burns, Mrs. W. Wiberg, whose home is near the Rosebank Line Company on the west side of Esquimalt Harbor, is in the Jubilee Hospital after a harrowing experience at her home on Tuesday afternoon which might have resulted in her death had it not been for her presence of mind.
With much of her body covered with flaming paraffin wax, Mrs. Wiberg plunged into the harbor and then sought assistance from neighbors who called police for her removal to the hospital.
Mrs. Wiberg, whose husband and daughter are engaged in fishing near Gabriola Island, was doing preserves at the time of the accident. She had been boiling wax to place in the jars and as she was removing a large pot from the stove it tipped and spilled on her clothes.
The boiling liquid immediately ignited with the heat of the stove, and soon Mrs. Wiberg's clothing was a mass of flames. Without hesitating, she dashed for the beach nearby. It was low tide and she had to run quite a distance before reaching the sea and plunging in.
Mrs. Wiberg then returned to the nearby home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Walker, where she was given temporary relief until the arrival of Constable A. G. Carmichael of the provincial police, who took her to hospital.
About the arms and legs Mrs. W. Wiberg was severely burned. Dr. W. J. Endicott, who is attending her, reported however, her condition was not serious. She had suffered from a second degree burn which covered about a sixth of her body, he said.

Canadian Press
Ottawa, June 6.—A bill to establish a Dominion trade and industry commission was given first reading in the House of Commons to-day. It was introduced by Hon. R. B. Hanson, Minister of Trade and Commerce, and provides for a commission of three.
For the time being the tariff board will, by virtue of holding office as members of that board, be the commissioners, and the chairman, Hon. George H. Sedgewick, and vice-chairman, M. N. Campbell, will be chief commissioner and assistant chief commissioner, respectively.
The bill would enable persons engaged in any specific industry to combine in regulating prices without being liable to prosecution under the Competition Act.

Schools Display Colorful Affair

Crowd of Almost 8,000 Witnesses Dancing, Gymnastics and Symbolical Scene at Athletic Park

Under a blazing sun and before a vast crowd, 2,500 Victoria public school children yesterday afternoon offered their colorful contribution to the celebration of His Majesty the King's Silver Jubilee.
Between 7,000 and 8,000 persons crowded the grandstand, bleachers and temporary seats at the Royal Athletic Park to witness the pageant, a display of beauty, movement and brilliant color.
The climax of the whole affair came at the end, in the form of the pageant proper, a symbolical scene which lasted for the best part of half an hour and culminated with the formation of a huge living Union Jack.
The scene opened with the entry of Miss British Columbia, portrayed by Ethel Pichett. Clad in green and black, her long train supported by two pages in medieval costume, she took her place in front of a raised dais adorned with the rising sun emblem of the province. As she entered fifty little girls in white dresses scattered flowers around her. Screens of broom and small fir trees stretched away on either side of the throne to add further color to the scene.

Relief Men Reach There From Kamloops on Way to Ottawa

Canadian Press
Calgary, June 6.—Aboard a freight train on which were lettered large signs, "On to Ottawa," the Vancouver relief camp strikers bound for the Dominion capital reached Golden, B.C., from Kamloops early to-day.
Within seventy-five miles of the British Columbia-Alberta boundary and 200 miles from Calgary, the camp strikers planned to rest here to-day. They hope to reach Calgary by the week-end. There a three-day halt may be called and a tag day to raise funds for the "march on Ottawa."
Civil authorities have protested against permitting the men to enter Alberta and no relief will be granted them here.
EXPECT ADDITIONS
Revelstoke, B.C., June 6.—Some 600 striking relief camp workers passed through here about a Canadian Pacific Railway freight train early to-day en route east, where they intend to congregate at Ottawa to press their demand for improved camp conditions and changed administration.
One of their spokesmen stated they expected to be joined at Calgary by several hundred workers from camps in Alberta.
It was not learned where the men would make their next stop. A large number of them remained at Kamloops, B.C., for two days after leaving Vancouver Monday.

"DEPARTMENT OF DOCTORS"

B.C. Minister Develops University-trained Personnel

The Department of the Provincial Secretary at the Parliament Buildings is rapidly becoming a "Department of Doctors" in the course of Hon. G. M. Weir's policy of securing university-trained men as administrators.
Within the last year five officials entitled to use "Dr." in front of their names have been appointed, bringing to seven the number of doctors in the department, outside of those directly engaged in institutions under the Provincial Secretary's control.
At the head is Dr. Weir himself, with several university degrees.
Dr. H. E. Young, a medical man, has charge of the health branch.
Dr. H. M. Cassidy, a doctor of philosophy, is director of welfare services.
Dr. G. P. Davidson, another doctor of philosophy, has charge of one welfare branch.
Dr. Kaye Lamb, also a doctor of philosophy, is provincial librarian.
Dr. W. H. Hatfield, the other medical doctor, is in charge of the new tuberculosis drive.
Dr. Alton Peabody has just been engaged temporarily as adviser on state health insurance, another Ph.D.
Dr. W. A. Carothers, chairman of the Economic Council, is also a Ph.D., but does not come in the Provincial Secretary's Department.

Rome Papers Attack Britain

Associated Press
Rome, June 6.—The Giornale d'Italia in a front-page editorial to-day said Britain wishes to gain possession of Ethiopia and that for this reason is opposing Italian penetration of that country.

The charges have been labelled as absurd in London.

VISCOUNT BYNG DIES IN ENGLAND

THIRD ARMY

Lieut.-Gen. Byng, after that was promoted commander of the Third British Army, which had support of the Canadian Corps, and saw his Cambrai campaign, one of the most brilliant military conceptions of the entire war, neutralized the lack of troops and support. He was promoted general after that effort late in 1917, and in the spring of 1918 his Third Army hung on doggedly in the teeth of the last great German offensive, modeled on Byng's own Cambrai strategy. He was ready in the final Allied drive, behind the German breaking Canadians' advance to Mons.

CONSTITUTIONAL ISSUE

In peace, the soldier was denied the seclusion he sought. He gladly, however, accepted the governor-generalship of Canada in 1921 and all went well until 1925, when Byng unwittingly became the centre of one of Canada's gravest constitutional issues. That was when he accepted the resignation of Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, but instead of acquiescing in the Liberal leader's suggestion that Parliament be dissolved, called on Sir Arthur Meighen to form a government, the Conservative ministry being overthrown in short order and the Liberals gaining a majority in the subsequent election. Despite the gravity of the constitutional issue, refusal of the Governor-General to follow the retiring Prime Minister's advice, for Byng personally both parties retained the highest respect, and as he said, "No matter what I do, I shall be wrong."

TWO YEARS OF REST

He left Canada, "a tired old man," late in 1926, and had two years before he was again called on, this time to fix up the Metropolitan Police of London. Bribery and collusion charges had threatened to bring that fine force into total disgrace, and Lord Byng was considered the best man to remedy the malady. He worked for three years, when his task was finished and the credit of the force was again fully established.

SEA VOYAGES

Since 1931 Viscount Byng and his wife, always at his side, tried to enjoy the retirement so often delayed. Failing in health, he made numerous sea voyages, chiefly to California and Canada's Pacific Coast.

He was the recipient of many honors from the British and foreign governments. He was thanked by Parliament for his "distinguished services" and awarded a grant of $150,000.

There is no help to the title.

VISCOUNT BYNG DIED IN ENGLAND.

The seventh son of the second Earl of Strathford, Julian Hedworth George Byng was born September 11, 1862. Like so many younger sons of the British aristocracy, he chose the army as his career. He joined the Tenth Royal Hussars in India in 1883. He saw his first active service on the shore of the Red Sea a year later. He served in the Sudan expedition, 1894, including El Teb Tamas, and won military decorations.

In the South African War he served as a major and lieutenant-colonel. After the South African War he commanded his regiment, the Tenth Royal Hussars, for two years, 1903-04, and was then for a year in charge of the cavalry school at Netterton.

He was at the head of a cavalry brigade from 1907 to 1909, when he was promoted major-general. He spent two years in charge of a territorial division and then, in 1912, he was sent to Egypt to take command of the army of occupation.

In October, 1914, he was summoned home to take the Third Cavalry Division to France, and he succeeded to the command of the Cavalry Corps in June, 1915. Two months later, however, he was dispatched to the Dardanelles to take charge of the Ninth Army Corps there, and he became responsible for the Syria area, from which he withdrew his troops more skillfully in the following December. For this valuable service he received the K.C.M.G. His corps proceeded to Egypt, but he was almost immediately called back to the Western Front to command the Seventeenth Army Corps.

In May, 1916, he was transferred to the Canadian Army Corps, then recently formed, which he commanded for a year, during which he and the Canadian troops, as already stated, were renowned by the capture of Vimy Ridge. He had been promoted lieutenant-general for his service in the Canadian Army Corps in 1916 and was given the K.C.B. He was succeeded in command of the Canadian Corps by Gen. Sir Arthur Currie.

In June, 1917, Lieutenant-General Byng succeeded to the leadership of the Third British Army, which he retained until the close of hostilities. He was created a baron in 1919, and elevated to viscount in 1926.

AIDED BY WIFE

Much of the success Lord Byng achieved in life was due, he was wont to say, to the encouragement and inspiration of his wife, Lady Byng (Marie Evelyn, only child of the late Sir Richard C. Acreton), a gifted writer, a cultured and accomplished lover of the fine arts, and a woman of marked ability, was a counsellor and confidante of more than ordinary perspicacity. No less than her distinguished husband, Lady Byng was a devoted friend. In war and peace he was a prince among men.

Colony Cy Feck, V.C., D.S.O., of Victoria, who commanded 16th Canadian division, said to-day:

"I keenly regret the passing of Viscount Byng. His record with the Canadian Corps, and later with the Third Army, stamped him as a great military leader. He was as proud of the achievements of the corps as the men were of his leadership."

COMPS SPIRIT

Brigadier J. Sutherland Brown of Victoria, who was assistant adjutant and quartermaster-general of the First and Third Divisions:

"Viscount Byng developed a high corps spirit among the Canadian troops. He objected to what might be termed 'political' pandering from outside, took a keen personal interest in training of the men and never lost sight of his old corps. He was popular with all ranks, always firm, but he had a kindly way of doing things. He possessed a keen sense of humor and was very tactful."

GRASP OF DETAIL

Major-General R. C. Thacker, C.R.A., of Victoria, who commanded the First Canadian Division Artillery of Victoria:

"Lord Byng exercised a keen oversight, and a grasping grasp of detail and a profound understanding of men. He had an amazing faculty of making his personality felt throughout all ranks."

BUILT UP CORPS

Vancouver, June 6 (Canadian Press)—Viscount Byng, who led the Canadian Corps in 1916, built up one of the best fighting units of the Allied armies, being loved as well as respected by the Canadian who served under him. Col. W. W. Foster, battalion commander under Viscount Byng in France, said to-day when informed of the viscount's death:

"Only recently he had communicated with old comrades in Canada and expressed his hope of meeting some of them at Vimy next year."

TRIBUTES TO LATE LEADER

Canadians who served under him are well known. I mourn his loss as that of a very dear friend."

WENT CONFIDENT

Hon. Grose Stirling, Minister of National Defence, said:

"Field Marshal Viscount Byng, in peace and war, won the confidence and esteem of Canadians as few men have ever done. During his tenure of office as Governor-General, he continued to spread the doctrine of loyalty, co-operation and self-sacrifice. He was a leader of men in the truest sense of the word."

Brigadier-General Alex Ross, C.M.G., Dominion President of the Canadian Legion:

"In the death of our former corps commander, Baron Byng, I am sure every Canadian soldier who served under him will feel a sense of deep personal loss."

Not only from senior officers of the Canadian Corps, but from men in the ranks came expressions to-day of great affection they had for their deceased comrade and commander.

MEIGHEN'S TRIBUTE
Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, government leader in the Senate and former Prime Minister, said:

"Canadians all will mourn the death of Viscount Byng. This country never had a more devoted friend. In war and peace he was a prince among men."

Colonel Cy Feck, V.C., D.S.O., of Victoria, who commanded 16th Canadian division, said to-day:

"I keenly regret the passing of Viscount Byng. His record with the Canadian Corps, and later with the Third Army, stamped him as a great military leader. He was as proud of the achievements of the corps as the men were of his leadership."

Brigadier J. Sutherland Brown of Victoria, who was assistant adjutant and quartermaster-general of the First and Third Divisions:

"Lord Byng exercised a keen oversight, and a grasping grasp of detail and a profound understanding of men. He had an amazing faculty of making his personality felt throughout all ranks."

and his sudden death comes as a great shock to me."

HAMILTON'S TRIBUTE

London, June 6.—General Sir Ian Hamilton, now eighty-two, said to-day of the death of Viscount Byng: "Without fear of contradiction, I will say Byng was one of the most charming Canadian soldiers who served under me. This is not a moment to review his great military career, but I can only say that at the Dardanelles he came to me, and he came when I first specially asked Kitchener to send him. I am convinced the result of the campaign would have been different."

BURSTALL'S TRIBUTE

London, June 6 (Canadian Press)—"We all looked on him as a wonderful leader," said Lieut.-General Sir Henry Burstall, wartime commander of the 2nd Canadian Division, to the Canadian Press to-day when he learned of the death of Viscount Byng.

"Everyone in the Canadian Corps regarded him with remarkable affection. He was a leader of men in the truest sense of the word."

GEN. ODLUM'S TRIBUTE

Vancouver, June 6.—"It was Lord Byng who made the Canadian Corps," Brig.-Gen. Victor W. Odium, who was a brigade commander under Viscount Byng during the Great War, said to-day when informed of the viscount's death.

"He made it conscious of its own strength and he taught it discipline and efficiency. He was a great leader and a man's man. He knew his work so well that no one ever objected to criticism from him."

"He had the confidence and affection of the whole corps and along with General Currie he is still its hero. Every man of the corps will feel a personal loss with his death."

GEN. CLARKE'S TRIBUTE
"In the death of Viscount Byng the empire has lost a truly great man," said Brig.-Gen. J. A. Clark, who served under Viscount Byng as a battalion commander and who was a member of parliament when the viscount was Governor-General of Canada.

"He taught the Canadians the science of war and welded them into a fighting machine rarely, if ever, surpassed in history. His fine character and firm but impartial temperament won him the respect and affection of all ranks."

"Canada owes a great debt to Lord Byng."

Delegates to the conference of the International Labor Organization to-day were studying a petition bearing 50,000 signatures asking for prompt action to remedy the situation of the unemployed youth of the world.

Canadian Appeals In Crime Cases To London Barred

QUEBEC DECISION

Specifically, the Privy Council first dismissed the petition of the British Coal Corporation of Quebec for special leave to appeal against a Quebec court decision which convicted the corporation, along with others, of an illegal combine to maintain prices, and fined the corporation.

Secondly, the Judicial Committee dismissed a petition for leave to appeal from an Irish Free State decision which, in the whole army, retained the right of appeal to His Majesty in all other than purely criminal cases. They were argued coincidentally and the judgments were coincident.

CANADIAN SOVEREIGNTY

Dealing with the petition from the province of Quebec, their lordships decision as read by Lord Sankey said: "The appeal, if special leave is granted, is from the decision of a Canadian court and is to secure a reversal or alteration of the decision of the Canadian court. If it is successful its effect will be that the order of the Canadian court will be reversed accordingly."

"The appellant and the respondent in any such appeal must be Canadian subjects or persons who have submitted to the jurisdiction of the Canadian courts. Such appeals (criminal) must be essentially matters of Canadian concern, and the regulation and control of such appeals must be essentially a prime element of Canadian sovereignty as pertaining to matter of justice."

SAY POWER EXISTS

"Their lordships see no valid reason since the adoption of the Statute of Westminster why the power to regulate or prohibit the type of appeal should not be held to be vested in the Dominion parliament. Their lordships have been dealing only with the legal position in regard to criminal matters."

"It is here neither necessary nor desirable to touch on the position as regards civil appeals. For all these reasons, their lordships are of the opinion the petition for leave to appeal should be dismissed."

IRISH DECISION

The Irish judgment was read first, Lord Sankey reciting that the Irish treaty reserving the right to free State citizens of appeal to His Majesty in Council because that right was part of the law practised and of the legal position at that time (1922) governing the relationship of the Crown and the representative of the Crown in Ireland.

Under article 30 of the Irish constitution which followed on the treaty, said Lord Sankey, that right of petition to His Majesty could not be amended by abolishing the right of appeal.

"In December, 1931, the Statute of Westminster was passed as a result of the Imperial Conference in which Irish Free State representatives participated."

"The effect of the Statute of Westminster was to remove the fetter which lay on the Irish Free State Legislature by reason of the Colonial Laws Validity Act. That statute could now pass acts repugnant to the Imperial (United Kingdom) act, and in the case under consideration they have done so."

BIO TALK OF FINES

Quebec, June 6.—Petition of the British Coal Corporation dismissed by the Privy Council in London to-day requested leave to appeal against a Quebec court decision of more than a year ago. The local judgment, handed down by Mr. Justice Wilfrid Laliberté in December, 1933, imposed fines totalling $800,000 on five coal companies for guilty of violation of the Dominion Combines Act.

Trial of the companies was an aftermath of an inquiry carried out in the spring of 1933 by P. A. MacGregor, registrar under the Combines Investigation Act, into the coal industry in this province.

FIRST TEST

Ottawa, June 6 (Canadian Press)—Decision of the Privy Council in London to-day dismissing the petition of the British Coal Corporation of Quebec for leave to appeal from a conviction under the 1932-33 Combines Act, was the first test of the re-enacted section of the Criminal Code, forbidding such appeals.

News of the judgment was received here to-day with considerable satisfaction among officials of the Department of Justice.

The action was the first test of the re-enacted section of the Criminal Code. Previous efforts to set up such a barrier to the taking of criminal cases to London were defeated by Privy Council judgments.

By GEORGE HAMILTON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

London, June 6.—Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin, leader of the Conservative Party, to-day was giving final touches to the reconstructed cabinet. Unless all predictions go astray, to-morrow Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald will hand in his resignation to the King at Buckingham Palace and Mr. Baldwin will be requested to form a new cabinet.

The reconstruction of the cabinet, still along National Government lines, but with Mr. Baldwin at its head and the youthful members to the fore, is a foregone conclusion.

Unsettled List

The latest line-up of the new cabinet, still of course entirely unofficial, is as follows:

Prime Minister Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin, now Lord President of the Council.
Lord President of the Council, Rt. Hon. Ramsay MacDonald.
Chancellor, Lord Halifax, now Secretary of War.
Chancellor of the Exchequer, Rt. Hon. Neville Chamberlain, as at present.

Foreign Secretary, Sir Samuel Hoare, now Secretary for India.
Home Secretary, Sir John Simon, now Foreign Secretary. Sir John will also be Deputy Leader of the House of Commons.

Dominions Secretary, Rt. Hon. J. M. Thomas, as at present.
Colonial Secretary, Malcolm MacDonald, now Under-Secretary for Dominions.

Secretary of State for Air, Sir Philip Cunliffe-Lister, now to-day, secretary, who will also probably be made a peer.

First Lord of the Admiralty, Sir Bruce Moncrieff, as at present.
Secretary of State for Scotland, Sir Godfrey Collins, as at present.
Minister of Agriculture, Rt. Hon. Walter Elliot, as at present.

First Commissioner of Works, Rt. Hon. William Ormsby-Gore, as at present.
Minister of Labor, Rt. Hon. Ernest Brown, now Minister of Mines.

The six other cabinet ministers—there are twenty in the present Cabinet—are expected to remain unchanged.

At Himey Hall, Staffordshire, Mr. Baldwin will speak Saturday on the war lying before the new government.

London, June 6.—The prospect that Rt. Hon. Anthony Eden will be left "out in the cold" when the honors are passed around to to-morrow's expected cabinet shake-up disturbed the friends of the Lord Privy Seal to-day.

Mr. Eden's fate was believed to be the only question yet to be determined as Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin was expected to announce his new government to King George.

Until recently it generally had been assumed that Mr. Eden would inherit the Foreign Secretaryship which Sir John Simon now holds.

Mr. Eden, however, Secretary of State for India, now appears to have the inside track.

Mr. Eden won acclaim as Great Britain's representative in the recent conference at Berlin, Warsaw, Moscow and Praha.

COMMISSION ON TRADES

hines Investigation Act. If the commission decided such agreements would not unduly restrain trade or be injurious to the public.

COMPANIES ACT

Ottawa, June 6.—Amendments to the Dominion Companies Act now before the House of Commons are based on the recommendations of the Royal Commission on price spreads and mass buying.

They were introduced yesterday by Hon. C. H. Cahan, Secretary of State, and to-day the House proceeded with another phase of the price spreads report, the setting up of a Dominion trade and industry commission.

Changes in the Companies Act make new stipulations regarding prospecting—designed to protect investors. They restrict the powers of directors to deal with returns from the sale of non-value shares, but do not abolish this type of security.

Penalties are provided for directors who speculate in the securities of their companies and permanent directors are made responsible for all acts of provision of directors in the early stages of a corporation's life.

OPERATIONS LIMITED

Another new section provides the operations of a company are restricted to the objects and powers expressed in the charter. If any company in the opinion of the Secretary of State carries on any business not within the scope of its charter, it may be wound up under the provisions of the Winding Up Act as if it had become insolvent.

WILL IMPROVE PHONE SYSTEM

In order to provide improved telephone service through the Parkville exchange to the Qualicum Beach area, the B.C. Telephone Company is installing a small dial distributing system at Qualicum Beach. It was announced to-day. This will be operated as a part of the Parkville exchange.

A small brick and concrete building is now being constructed at the popular summer resort to house the automatic equipment. The conversion of the telephones in the Qualicum Beach area to the dial system will likely take place about the end of this month.

PICTURES STUDIED AS GANG HUNTED

Federal agents admitted they had a series of pictures which were being carried about on various investigation trips, but who knew where they were among the group could not be learned.

PHOTOS STUDIED
It was indicated persons who believed they might have sighted the kidnap gang were being shown the photographs, and the fact the pictures were available was taken to strengthen further belief that authorities had definite suspects in mind.

The appearance of another bill of the $200,000 ransom found in Spokane yesterday evening gave further indications that some members of the gang, said by the kidnap victim to number six, might be fleeing east. Since the first ransom note was reported passed showed up Sunday night at Huntington, in eastern Oregon.

SIX NAMED

Bailey, former bootlegger, who once lived here, was one of six men named by Detective William Fraser, of Portland, as being wanted for questioning in the case.

Another of the six he named, Milo Rogers, convicted robber, said Aberdeen he knew he had been investigated by federal agents, but that none of them had talked to him. On the day of the kidnaping, John Rogers said he was working in a cannery.

Reliable sources in Seattle declared a man had been taken away from a Seattle cannery yesterday morning, in custody of Justice Department men, but neither agents there nor here would confirm or comment on the report.

WANTED FOR QUESTIONING
Besides Bailey and Rogers, the men named by Rogers as being sought are: Elliott Michener, ex-convict and train robber; Richard Fransen, ex-convict and gunman; Lester Johnson, suspected extortionist, and Harold McAttee, wanted also for questioning in a St. Louis, Mo., slaying.

Federal authorities here denied published reports to-day that one of the $200,000 ransom note had been found in the Toledo Edison Company on the trail of Vincent Desnoes, former Capone gangster. They said they did not want him in the kidnaping.

The Toledo Edison Company bill was received at the post office money order window Tuesday, but the clerk, Miss Vernon Oeavers, could not recall who passed it.

Authorities took charge of the bill, as they had the one passed at Huntington by a man who bought a ticket for Salt Lake City Sunday evening.

Over fifty high school boys, instructed by W. A. Roper, gave a thrilling display in the formation of three

In the centre of the figure, boys stood in precarious positions on the backs of others perched on top of a pile of parallel bars. On either side further groups of boys stretched in the field, each lower than the last in height, and ending with a single boy on each wing, with his heels and one hand on the ground.

The girls formed a symmetrical figure, with the hands of the front row, the dummies on either side of them, and the Indian clubs, which were tipped with colored streamers, on two wings. Although the girls were going through an entirely different set of movements, the rhythm was so perfect that there was never a fraction of a second of difference in the change which they all made together.

The pageant was evolved and staged through the efforts of Major J. H. Hinton, who personally supervised the entries and exits of all performers, and was largely responsible for the great success of the event.

As a conclusion of the pageant, Frank Tupper led the whole assembly of school children in singing "Land of Hope and Glory."

The pageant was attended by Mayor David Leeming and members of the City Council and School Board. Among the spectators was L. D. Edwards, chief superintendent of the station in Queensland, Australia, who is at present on a visit to British Columbia.

After the show was finished, six special street cars received the crowds of performers, and many more cars carried off the crowd, which filled the corner of Caledonia Avenue and Cook Street.

STRIKE ENDS SUDDENLY

Toledo, Ohio, Electrical Workers Back on Job As Pressure Brought to Bear

Associated Press
Toledo, O., June 6.—A crew of "trouble shooters" and generative operators went to work in the power plant of the Toledo Edison Company to-day, ending a strike which for a while threatened to shut off electric power over an area of 800 square miles in northwestern Ohio.

Union electrical workers who called the strike yesterday morning called it off early to-day, pending negotiations on their demand for a 20 per cent wage increase.

The negotiations will start in New York, probably Monday, with officials of the Henry L. Doherty Company, parent corporation of the Toledo Edison Company.

The swift termination of the strike was attributed to "pressure from many sources" by Oliver Myers, business manager of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, an American Federation of Labor affiliate.

Myers mentioned "presidential pressure" from Washington, Department of Labor pressure, Toledo Chamber of Commerce pressure, American Federation of Labor pressure and newspaper pressure.

LIBRARY ELECTIONS
Vancouver, June 6 (Canadian Press).—The British Columbia library commission and Vancouver library officials, meeting here informally, have expressed the opinion the library boards should be elected by the ratepayers and not appointed by municipal authorities and will seek legislation to that effect.
Boards appointed by municipal authorities, it was asserted, were in danger of becoming subservient, with possibility of undue limitation and interference.

B.C. Buildings Are Criticized

Mayor McGeer of Vancouver Says Legislative Pile Here "All Halls and Walls"

Vancouver, June 6.—The architectural appearance of the British Columbia Legislative Buildings in Victoria was criticized yesterday by Mayor G. G. McGeer as the city council considered selection of a site for the new city hall.
Alderman Warner Loat had suggested an architects' competition for design of the proposed building and he cited the Legislative Buildings as the result of such a competition.
"What?" ejaculated the mayor. "Why the building is all halls and walls and there is no room there for government. That building may be really the cause of the terrible government in British Columbia, and that is what we are liable to get if we have competitive plans."

GOLD SUMS FOR FOREIGN PAYMENTS

Canadian Press
Ottawa, June 6.—Of the gold coin and bullion taken over by the Bank of Canada from chartered banks, valued at $37,480,390 at the normal rate of $20.67 an ounce, the Governor-General-in-council has decided 40 per cent may be considered as having been held by the banks at the time of transfer, against liabilities elsewhere than in Canada.

The information was contained in an order-in-council tabled in the House of Commons yesterday. A small additional percentage was allowed for the Royal Bank of Canada and the Bank of Montreal. National against special deposits.
When the Bank of Canada started operations last March 11 the chartered banks were required by statute at once to hand over to the central bank all their gold reserves, receiving credit at the normal rate of $20.67 an ounce, although the world price had then risen to around $35 an ounce.

Dean Brock, former Ottawa government official, said he expected an increase of business to the Orient.
Possibility of a steamship line being established this summer between Hamilton and Vancouver was mentioned by R. H. Yeates, harbor commissioner for Hamilton.

The "deathhouse quartet," Rosecrans said, includes one negro, who has an excellent voice.

U.S. AIR BASE BILL IS VOTED

Associated Press
Washington, June 6.—A bill to authorize construction of half a dozen key army air bases to guard Alaska, the Panama Canal and the nation's frontiers against enemy attacks was passed yesterday by the house and sent to the Senate.
The measure recently was the centre of international pyrotechnics when it was disclosed an officer of the army high command had told the House military committee it contained a camouflaged provision for an air base near the Canadian border.
In establishing the new bases, the war department is directed to consider sites in the Atlantic northeast, Atlantic southeast and Caribbean, southeastern states, Alaska, Pacific northwest and Rocky Mountains.

MANY RECRUITS FOR AIR FORCE

The ministry said it was too early yet to give details regarding the origin of the recruits.
The inquiries came after announcement of a rapid expansion in the air force.

Free State To Control Labor

Bill Provides For Strict Regulation of Industrial Hours and Wages

By JOSEPH DENNIGAN,
Canadian Press Correspondent
Dublin, June 6.—A maximum working week, holidays with pay, restriction of night and Sunday work and the regulation of overtime rates and shift work are the main proposals of the Conditions of Employment Bill, a measure sponsored by President Eamon de Valera's Minister of Industry and Commerce, Sean Lemass, and now passing through the Free State Parliament.
The main purpose of the bill, according to the minister, is to confer on him power to make regulations after consultation with representatives of employers and workers in any industry, prescribing maximum hours of work.
When the bill becomes law, adult men and women may only work an eight-hour day and a forty-eight-hour week. For juveniles the normal maximum will be forty hours a week. No reduction in wages may take place where hours of work are reduced by the bill.
Wage agreements between employers and their workers may be confirmed by the Department of Industry and Commerce so as to be legally enforceable. The minister proposes also to take powers to prohibit the employment of women or to fix the proportion of women workers to men in any industry.
One week's holiday with pay, together with six public holidays per year must be given to all industrial workers and working on Sundays will be banned except under special license. Where such a license is granted, twenty-four hours' continuous rest must be given to workers in the same week.
Women may not be employed at night in industrial work and men may be employed only on work which must be carried on without interruption.

Works Bill Is Before Senate

Ottawa, June 6.—The government's works construction bill was scheduled to be discussed to-day in the committee stage on the floor of the Senate. Both political parties agreed to this procedure rather than send the measure to the over-worked banking and commerce committee.
Efforts were being made by the banking and commerce committee to complete consideration of the weights and measures bill, imposing increased penalties for short weights, in time to report to the House at its afternoon sitting.
The bill was the first piece of business taken up by the committee on reconvening. If the measure achieves the progress anticipated, the committee may turn its attention to one of the other bills of its agenda. One of these is the amendment to the Industrial Disputes Investigation Act, enabling expeditious appointment by the Minister of Labor of a board of conciliation in strikes or lockouts on complaints of intimidation or discrimination. The other is the measure of T. L. Church, Conservative, Toronto, East, to compel newspapers to publish the names of their shareholders.

May Free M.P.'s Of Income Tax

Government May Bring Bill Before Commons at This Session

Ottawa, June 6.—Finance Minister E. N. Rhodes may introduce a bill later this session to exempt the indemnities of members and Senators from income tax. To achieve members from the charge of legislating for themselves, the bill will not apply to the present Parliament.
When the House was discussing income tax changes yesterday, Hon. J. L. Baskin, Liberal financial critic, suggested members should be allowed exemptions for living expenses in Ottawa. He claimed it was unjust to tax members for the full indemnity when it was necessary for them to spend most of it to earn it.
The Finance Minister agreed, but went further. He believed the $4,000 indemnity should be exempt from income tax and preferred to recommend a change in the law to the incoming Parliament.

PROVINCIAL TAXES

A province has a legal right to collect income tax, Mr. Rhodes told the House yesterday when T. L. Church, Conservative, Toronto East, expressed alarm at the prospect of Ontario duplicating the federal impost and abolishing municipal income taxes.
The Finance Minister expressed hope that before long a settlement would be reached on the overlapping of provincial and federal taxation fields. It had been on the agenda of the Dominion-provincial conference scheduled for last fall but not held.

PAYMENT PLAN IS RATIFIED

Associated Press
Washington, June 6.—The United States Senate yesterday ratified a convention with Canada under which the latter agrees to pay the United States $350,000 in settlement of damages in the State of Washington caused by sulphur fumes discharged from the smelter of the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company at Trail, B.C.
The sum would be for damages suffered prior to January 1, 1932. The convention also sets up a tribunal to decide whether any damages have been caused since that date and, if so, what indemnity should be allowed.

This census, announced yesterday afternoon by Leslie More-Bellah, Minister of Transport, in the House of Commons, is to provide adequate data for road improvement on a scientific basis.

INQUIRY INTO HANSARD SOON

Canadian Press
Ottawa, June 6.—Premier R. B. Bennett yesterday afternoon announced he would start an investigation into discrepancies alleged by Hon. Peter Veniot, Liberal, Gloucester, N.B., between Hansard records and official documents of the House.
The New Brunswick member claimed he had been charged against the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, involving the rum-runner Paul T. on documents handed to him in the House, only to find another version appeared in Hansard.

BYING OF VIMY

VISCOUNT BYING OF VIMY LIES DEAD
 at Thorpe-Soken, a picturesque spot in the English county of Essex, at the age of seventy-three, He had been in failing health in recent years and only a few weeks ago he had returned to his native land after a visit to California in search of new strength. But apparently the disease from which he had been suffering had gone too far for human agencies to arrest. A last-minute operation failed to produce the rally for which all had hoped.

Canadians have a very warm place in their hearts for the fine soldier and gentleman who was one of the commanders of the Canadian Corps in the war, destined afterward to renew old friendships and make new ones as Governor-General of Canada, a man who endeared himself to the Canadian people by his kindness and courtesy. He was, of course, a soldier by his finger-tips—had been all his life until he came to Rideau Hall to follow in the steps of an illustrious line of Governors-General. His term at Ottawa came to an end in 1926—a term which included the famous "constitutional incident" in the summer of that year, when he did not take the advice of the Premier who had asked for dissolution, calling instead upon the leader of the opposition to form a government—a government which met defeat in the House of Commons four days later. After an appeal to the people, the former Prime Minister, Mr. Mackenzie King, was returned to office again with a comfortable working majority. Despite this incident, which stirred Canada from one end to the other, Canadians of every shade of public and political opinion retained the very highest regard for Lord Byng personally.

In 1928, after two years in retirement, Viscount Byng was called upon to reorganize London's famed Metropolitan Police and to become head of Scotland Yard—then under a cloud because of charges of bribery and corruption. Before failing health compelled him to relinquish this important post he had completed his difficult job in a most efficient manner, so efficient that his successor found a smooth-working and capable organization with the taint which formerly had threatened its long and enviable reputation completely removed.

But it is "Byng of Vimy" in whom Canadians are chiefly interested. It was he who completed the welding of the eager citizen soldiers from Canada into an individual unit because he was convinced they could be turned into a force of unshakable determination. After that he took over its command. His conviction was borne out by the triumph of Vimy Ridge on that memorable Easter Monday in 1917. On that day, under his own leadership, about one hundred thousand Canadians established a reputation for fighting courage which attracted the attention of the whole world. Then, during the closing days of the great conflict, the Canadian Corps was chosen as the spearhead for the final attack which brought victory—the greatest tribute which could have been paid to it. This was the Corps which drew its inspiration from the man over whose mortal remains the Last Post is about to be sounded.

Viscount Byng attributed much of his brilliant success as a soldier, as in everything he undertook, to the sympathetic co-operation and guidance of his wife. His later years had been confined to rest and efforts to get back some of the strength which a strenuous life had taken from him. No "statements" or autobiographies came from his pen. There was no necessity for him to "explain" anything. He always saw his duty and did it. There is nothing in his contribution to the Great War for which he need apologize. His fine record may well be his epitaph.

YOUTH SPEAKS

IT WAS EMINENTLY NATURAL THAT a meeting of the Canadian Congress of Youth recently in Toronto should condemn war. Wars are fought by youths, not by statesmen, and protests such as these should cause politicians and statesmen furiously to think. As long as there is talk of armaments, which, of course, presupposes another war, the danger of international conflict always will be there.

The Congress went on record declaring that armed conflict is due to the "prevailing modes of the profit system," and it contended that there should be an extensive propaganda against war and "preparations for war" and the manufacture of war materials. Canadians are peace-minded, but this protest from Canadian youth suggests that they are carefully watching European trends, and are not unmindful of the far-reaching consequences another war in Europe would inflict on the world, now in a serious plight because economic nationalism still is running riot.

Canada can point to her peaceful association with her nearest neighbor for more than a hundred years. A frontier of nearly five thousand miles with neither gun nor fort should furnish an object lesson to those nations of Europe which continue to glare at one another. It still does not seem to dawn on statesmen in Europe and America and the Far East, as they increase their armament budgets, that another major conflict would mean the destruction of life and property on a scale which would make the last war look small. It would virtually destroy civilization.

OUR NEIGHBOR'S PENSION BILL

THE SHELIVING ONCE AGAIN OF THE Veterans' Bonus Bill, by reason of the Senate upholding President Roosevelt's veto, has prompted many United States newspapers to reckon up the cost of the veterans' pensions during the last 145 years. We are told that since 1790, the neighboring republic had spent, to the end of the fiscal year 1934, almost $17,000,000,000 in various forms of relief for veterans of all wars. Union soldiers in the war between the states and their dependents had received $7,768,000,000 in seventy-three years.

Disbursements in sixteen years, to the end of the last fiscal year, to World War veterans in disability compensation, adjusted-service certificates, insurance, vocational training, and allotments would total $7,800,000,000. President Roosevelt announced in vetoing the Patman bill.

Last year, seven dependents of those who fought in 1812 received $3,222; 351 widows of Mexican War veterans got $198,588. As early as 1783, the problem of soldier-benefits agitated the government and the ranks of the Revolutionary Army. Promised gratuities failed to materialize. In 1875, Grant refused to sign "an act to equalize the bounties of the soldiers who served in the late war for the Union."

The first federal bonus bill, introduced within an hour after the signing of the armistice, which ended the World War, was passed on February 24, 1919. It gave $60 to every veteran who had served sixty days or more, and had an honorable discharge.

In July, 1921, "an adjusted-compensation bill" was passed by the House, but killed by the Senate after President Harding had made a personal plea. The following year, the bill passed both houses, but the Senate sustained the veto in the late war for the Union."

In May, 1924, a bonus-insurance compromise was enacted over President Coolidge's veto. It virtually doubled the pay of all private soldiers and sailors who were in the services during some part of the war, and materially increased the compensation of officers up to and including captains.

Almost at once agitation began for payment of the full amount of each adjusted-service certificate, due in 1945. In February, 1931, an amendment passed over President Hoover's veto entitled veterans to borrow up to 50 per cent of the maturity value of their certificates.

In the summer of 1932, after the House had passed the Patman bill providing immediate payment of the ultimate value, the "Bonus Army" was evicted from Washington, and the Senate defeated the measure. And once again the bill has gone to the wastepaper basket.

A FINE EXHIBITION

CONCEIVED AS A SPECTACULAR demonstration of callisthenics, the Victoria public schools pageant staged yesterday afternoon in Royal Athletic Park more than achieved its objective. It disclosed very clearly the admirable spirit of co-operation which exists between teacher and student, without which an undertaking of this character would have been a very mediocre affair.

To single out any group for special mention would be unfair to the individual schools. Suffice it to say that the human Maple Leaf and Union Jack, together with the Highland dancing and physical exercises, were examples of perfect rhythm. The remarkable precision with which the various events were performed and the colorfulness of the exhibition as a whole merit the highest praise. The display also reflects painstaking efforts on the part of the supervisors, for it is obvious that they were required to give many hours of time in practice with their willing and youthful participants.

It is unfortunate that such an arresting spectacle could not have been presented either during the Jubilee celebrations, or, say, on May 24. However, it was a triumph in which all who participated may well be proud. How much the event had been looked forward to was reflected in the record crowd in attendance. Nor would this reference to the display be complete without congratulations to Major A. C. Hinton, director of physical education in the public schools, and his associates, whose painstaking labors met with due reward.

STUDENTS AT WORK

THE YOUNG MAN WHO WORKS HIS way through college is apt to be a much better student than the one whose parents pay his way. This is the conclusion to be drawn from a survey just completed at the University of Southern California by Dr. Frank C. Touton, the university's vice-president.

The survey compared the scholastic records of students participating in the federal government's programme of part-time jobs for college undergraduates with those whose expenses were being met by their parents, and it found that the former group ranked higher in classroom marks, displayed a greater earnestness of purpose, and, in general, seemed to be getting more out of college life.

This is not hard to understand. The lad whose college expenses are paid for him can easily fall into the notion that college is just a pleasant and diverting lark. The one who is earning his way by the sweat of his brow knows what he is in college for, and does his best to make it worth the effort it is costing him.

JUST FOLKS

CHAIN LETTERS

Chain letters carrying a threat
 Of dire disaster, death and loss,
 Which days gone by I used to get Into the basket off I'd toss.

It seemed impertinent to me
 That total strangers should assume
 That I would even want to be
 A messenger of grief and gloom.

Now come the letters in the chain
 With "Send a dollar or a dime
 And almost countless wealth you'll gain
 At no expense of toil or time."

Who sends such letters unto me
 Will buy the postage stamps in vain.
 For I am satisfied to be
 The weakest link of such a chain.

Loose Ends

The government is surprised about the young, but why should it be? The country, says Mrs. Noggins, needs more than titles and Tony builds himself a shack.

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

OUT-DOOR FOLK

THE PROVINCIAL GOVERNMENT is surprised and a little appalled at the fact that so few young British Columbians want to go out into the woods with provincial foresters. Instead of being deluged with applications for places in this new forestry corps, the government finds itself with barely enough eligible boys for the job. It can't understand this lack of enthusiasm for the wild places among the city youth of British Columbia.

Here, surely, is a significant portent which educationists and statesmen should pause to consider. It cuts through in a flash the old and foolish notion that we British Columbians are a pioneer race, close to the soil, on the fringe of the wilderness, with a love of the wild places and a capacity for living in them. This legend still flourishes, though all the facts are against it. The facts are that British Columbia has largely an urban population. Most of its people live in cities or towns which have all the conveniences of cities. The numbers living in the open are relatively small. Why, more than half of us live within street-car distance of the Vancouver City Hall.

Still, we have told the world at large so often that we believe it ourselves that the old pioneering spirit survives, that a British Columbian may float down Granville Street in a limousine to drink cocktails at the Vancouver Club, but somehow he is a pioneer. He may never go north of Hillside Avenue or west of the Equilmalt beer parlors, but he has still a sure instinct for nature and primal solitude.

Perhaps a few old fellows are like that. Perhaps a successful farmer, miner or logger can retire to the town and live in luxury on Rockland Avenue and yet remember with strong feeling his days in the open. But it is not the way with the young who are born within the sound of street cars. The young of British Columbia belong to the cities, to the movies, the dance hall and the pavement. When they go into the wilds it is in the rumble seat of a roadster and they come back in the evening to see a show. Most of them don't know how to build a fire or cook a hammock. The spectacle of the average British Columbian youth trying to catch a fish in the wilderness is really tragic.

They live, these youngsters, on the very edge of the finest out-doors in the world, but few of them have even seen it. Few want to see it. They would rather see Marie-Louise Dietrich. They don't want jobs in the woods. They would rather sell automobiles, bonds or ribbons. For behold, we have wrested this country from the wilderness with the titanic labors of our fathers; we have built fair cities and we have conferred on our young the incomparable boon of civilization. And, worst of all, they seem to like it.

RAIN AND TITLES

WELL, I SEE THEY went and done it again," said Mrs. Noggins, parking herself and two boiling chickens in the seat beside me. "Passed up dear old Saanich, I mean. Not a knight for Saanich in the 'ole list of the King's birthday honors. Not even a second or third-rate title like they was 'anding out like cigarette poker.' And not a Jubilee medal and not a title for dear old Saanich. Wot 'ave we done to get Bennett mad, that's wot I can't understand."

"And mindju, the time is getting short. There won't be no more titles after the next bestation and that can't be put hord much longer. If we don't get a title in Saanich by October, I figger we're cooked. A lot of fellers was heceptin' somethin' on the King's birthday. You take Wriggle-down, our councillor. Why, 'e figgered he'd be a Horder of the British Empire or somethin' at least, but I don't 'ave no sympathy fer 'im with our voad like it is, fit to break yer springs. Never mind, 'tain't titles the country needs right now or a bestation or even a new government, though they're all very nice in their way. Wot the country needs is a good soakin' rain."

"Wot I can't understand is them city folks, the way I see them in the newspapers wot Mrs. Boggie brings over with garbage for 'em, the way them city folks, I mean, is allus talkin' about the country 'as got to 'ave Communism. Or the country 'as got to 'ave Socialism. Or the country 'as got to 'ave Fascism. And fellas is shouting this idee and that idee in the newspapers till a body don't know whether she's a Communist or a Bult. But the country don't need any of them things, sir. Wot the country needs is like I told you—a good soakin' rain."

"Communism or Fascism couldn't do nothin' fer the country right now. Bless you, sir, the country is burnin' up through drought. Can the Communists or the Fascists, or Bennett or Pataullo or any of them do anything about that, I ask ye? Not a one of 'em. All the politicians can do is monkey with the lor. They can repeal the lor and amend the lor and pass new lers through parlymint. But that don't affect nothin' that matters. Wot matters? Why, cabbage matters. Potatoes matters. Cabbages matters. These are two 'ens I got wot—though they're pretty old and tough but they'll eat good if you boll 'em 'ard enough and then brown 'em in the oven with gravy and a little rice—they're a lot more important, these two 'ens is, than all the lers and all the Communism and Fascism you can shake a stick at. You can't eat lers and Communism, can ye? But these 'ens 'd make grand meal if ye boll 'em three hours on a slow fire."

"And wot is 'appenin'? Why, the food of the country is out there burnin' up to the sun. Grass goin' brown. Strawberries small and measly. Cabbages ain't growin' and there won't be no potatoes if we don't get some rain pretty soon. Wot the country needs is a good rain, no shower, mid-ju, but a soaker. And wot do we get? Titles for distinguished Canadians, that's wot! I'd like to see them fellas wot got 'em try to eat 'em if we 'ave a crop failure."

"If we don't get no rain a couple of 'ens like these 'ere will be worth ten knights and a 'undred Horders of the Empire. We got to 'ave rain, and all the politicians can talk about is Communism and Fascism and the like o' that, and me and me old man carryin' water to the lettuce in coal oil cans at 3 o'clock in the mornin'! Me, I'd trade the whole Canadian nobility, sir, barons, knights and Horders of the Empire, the 'ole bollin' of 'em, and chuck in the government and the C.C.F. fer six hours' good rain. Then we might eat next winter. The way she looks now we'll 'ave to live on nobility and lers and argument. Out in Saanich we got no titles but we 'ave got some 'ens like these 'ere, even if they're a bit tough. These great men, they can live on their titles. That'll be tougher. Good mornin', sir."

TONY

MACLEAN'S MAGAZINE publishes a useful little bit about a fellow named Tony. It seems that Tony was an Italian immigrant in a western Canadian city who was allowed to build himself a shack where he raised his family. Tony had intended a rather fine shack, with a concrete foundation, and tin sides, but the depression came along and he could not afford concrete. As for tin, he picked up cans in back alleys, flattened them out and nailed them to the frail wooden walls. In the winter the roof leaked, the cardboard which Tony had nailed to the inside walls became sodden and the hole which Tony had dug for a basement filled up with melting snow.

Tony went on the dole and the country thought it was keeping him and his family very cheaply. A few dollars a month would look after Tony and his entire brood and the authorities rejoiced.

But after a while Tony came down sick from acute rheumatism caused by the dampness and cold of the miserable shack. His wife likewise. Then all the children, until the entire family eventually was in the hospital. I forget the precise figures, but up to now it has cost the country several thousand dollars to treat Tony and his offspring, and they're not well yet, and the doctors say the children's hearts are permanently affected and they will probably die when they are about thirty years old, leaving families which the state will have to look after.

Tony's shack was cheap. It didn't cost the country anything. The dole didn't cost much, either. But in the end Tony and his offspring will cost the state more than half a dozen good houses and several good jobs of constructive work. In a generation or Canadians, of whom over 1,000,000 are on the dole and certainly not getting enough good food, there will be thousands of Tonies and more thousands of similar offspring. We have handled the depression very economically in this country.

nicer on a summer's eve than a singing of these delightful insects. Let me pause here, Mr. Editor, to say that it is only the female of the species that is somewhat annoying, and it almost brings tears to my eyes to think that some people are so cruel as to put coal oil in their water barrels and thus destroy the dear little tadpoles, or whatever you call them.

AFFECTIONATE BUNK.
SUNSHINE INN

To the Editor:—I have just seen Capt. Gadsden's statement in to-day's Colonist—that single men, eligible for relief camps, are allowed to feed at Sunshine Inn.

I am very glad to learn that is so now. I was working at the inn at the time when the board issued the mandate barring these men from getting meals. Capt. Gadsden told me that the reason for doing so was to ensure more available jobs for the married men. He also added it would lighten the burden of the city taxpayers, as the camps were under the federal government.

Within the last few weeks a boy asked me if he could get meals at the inn; so far, he had managed to keep going on odd jobs, but needed the odd meals to tide him over the bad days. I told him to go and see, and that he could be sympathetically received. The camp strikers were refused meals. A deputized interviewee, Capt. Gadsden, but that is a different matter. STRAWBERRY PRICES under the nom de plume "Ceres," a statement to the effect that while some of the fruit growers' organizations had sold their strawberries at 6c per pound, Mr. Gadsden, president of the Saanich Fruit Growers' Association was expecting that his organization would receive 7c or 7½c for their crop.

To the Editor:—On Saturday, May 25, there appeared in The Times

As there have been no sales, or contracts made, for strawberries at 6c per lb. either on the domestic market or for export, might we respectfully suggest that you be more careful as to the reliability of your information as such statements are quite capable of causing dissatisfaction among the fruit growers.

In anticipation of jam prices being set we have refused offers of 6c and 6½c per lb. so as not to impede any chance of getting the best possible price for the product.

We would like to point out to the growers of Saanich that we have approached the manager of the Saanich Fruit Growers' Association and offered to co-operate on the local market and also on the sale of jam strawberries; especially now that 90 per cent of the growers are under contract. This he has absolutely refused to do.

NEEDED MONEY, PRINTS HIS OWN

Saskatchewan Farmer to Serve Five Years; Appeal Justices Reject His Plea

When Peter Stanchuk, a short of money, he simply got out his machine and printed enough for his needs.

Found guilty of doing this, after discovery by mounted police, he was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary by Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald.

This week he came to Victoria from prison under a police guard to plead with the four sitting Justices of the Court of Appeal.

Martin as acting chief, against the severity of the sentence. He said all he wanted now in life was to go back to his farm in Saskatchewan, as he had only six months to live.

After he admitted to the Justices that he had been four previous convictions for theft against him, the court ordered him back to jail to serve his term under the care of the prison doctors.

THOUGHT NOTHING WRONG
George O. Kennedy of Vancouver, protested against the two-year term handed him by Mr. Justice McDonald for living on the avails of prostitution.

The Justices said they did not like his story and preferred to stand by the finding in the assize court.

Police officers put the handcuffs on Kennedy and took him off to serve his two years in Oakalla.

SAID HE WAS WRONG MAN
When John Fottis complained about the twelve years given him by Mr. Justice McDonald for a Bank of Montreal branch hold-up on December 12 last and for carrying firearms, the appeal Justices learned that he had twice before been convicted in Toronto, once in Calgary and once in Vancouver.

He had been released from Oakalla only last October. Fottis told the Justices there must have been some mistake as he was not the man who with two others staged the bank hold-up.

The Justices, however, were unanimous in their expressed belief that Fottis was the man and sent him back to serve the long term.

E. A. Dickie represented the Attorney-General before the court, but the Justices ordered the sentences in the three foregoing cases to stand without calling on Mr. Dickie to present the prosecution's side.

BOX LUNCH PROFITS FADED
William H. Black, security salesman, told the Justices Judge Ellis in Vancouver had improperly sentenced him to two years in prison on a charge of converting trust money. He explained he had obtained a $150 loan, not an investment, from A. E. Brown, to help him expand in his catering business of putting up box lunches at the Vancouver exhibition. He said he had paid back $25 or $30 to Brown, and argued that the action should have been civil, instead of criminal.

Under questioning, Black admitted telling Mr. Brown they would clean up $1,000 during exhibition week, in place of the net loss which resulted from their operations.

Asked about a conviction standing against him in 1930 for obtaining money with intent to defraud, Black explained he had been allowed out on suspended sentence then. He admitted, however, doing three months in 1933 for obtaining $800 under false pretences.

Without calling on Walter S. Owen, prosecution counsel, to reply to Black's story, the Justices unanimously ordered Black taken by the police back to serve his two years in jail.

NEEDED MONEY, PRINTS HIS OWN

Saskatchewan Farmer to Serve Five Years; Appeal Justices Reject His Plea

When Peter Stanchuk, a short of money, he simply got out his machine and printed enough for his needs.

Found guilty of doing this, after discovery by mounted police, he was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary by Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald.

This week he came to Victoria from prison under a police guard to plead with the four sitting Justices of the Court of Appeal.

Martin as acting chief, against the severity of the sentence. He said all he wanted now in life was to go back to his farm in Saskatchewan, as he had only six months to live.

After he admitted to the Justices that he had been four previous convictions for theft against him, the court ordered him back to jail to serve his term under the care of the prison doctors.

THOUGHT NOTHING WRONG
George O. Kennedy of Vancouver, protested against the two-year term handed him by Mr. Justice McDonald for living on the avails of prostitution.

The Justices said they did not like his story and preferred to stand by the finding in the assize court.

Police officers put the handcuffs on Kennedy and took him off to serve his two years in Oakalla.

SAID HE WAS WRONG MAN
When John Fottis complained about the twelve years given him by Mr. Justice McDonald for a Bank of Montreal branch hold-up on December 12 last and for carrying firearms, the appeal Justices learned that he had twice before been convicted in Toronto, once in Calgary and once in Vancouver.

He had been released from Oakalla only last October. Fottis told the Justices there must have been some mistake as he was not the man who with two others staged the bank hold-up.

The Justices, however, were unanimous in their expressed belief that Fottis was the man and sent him back to serve the long term.

E. A. Dickie represented the Attorney-General before the court, but the Justices ordered the sentences in the three foregoing cases to stand without calling on Mr. Dickie to present the prosecution's side.

BOX LUNCH PROFITS FADED
William H. Black, security salesman, told the Justices Judge Ellis in Vancouver had improperly sentenced him to two years in prison on a charge of converting trust money. He explained he had obtained a $150 loan, not an investment, from A. E. Brown, to help him expand in his catering business of putting up box lunches at the Vancouver exhibition. He said he had paid back $25 or $30 to Brown, and argued that the action should have been civil, instead of criminal.

Under questioning, Black admitted telling Mr. Brown they would clean up $1,000 during exhibition week, in place of the net loss which resulted from their operations.

Asked about a conviction standing against him in 1930 for obtaining money with intent to defraud, Black explained he had been allowed out on suspended sentence then. He admitted, however, doing three months in 1933 for obtaining $800 under false pretences.

Without calling on Walter S. Owen, prosecution counsel, to reply to Black's story, the Justices unanimously ordered Black taken by the police back to serve his two years in jail.

The pine beetle killed more than 1,000,000,000 feet of ponderosa pine timber in national forests of Washington and Oregon during the summer of 1931.

Wage Scale At Duncan Raised

Labor Pay Fixed at $3.20 Per Day; Traffic Improvements

Special to The Victoria Times
Duncan, June 6.—At the regular weekly meeting of the Duncan City Council on Tuesday evening, a request of the Cowichan Chapter I.O.O.F. to hold a tag day on June 22, Alexandra Rose Day, was granted.

The streets committee reported having received estimates for arches of cedar logs for entrance signs to the city. If they are placed on the side of the road the cost would be $50 each, if across the road about $100 each. The council decided not to take any definite action in the matter, owing to the cost, until they can obtain further information.

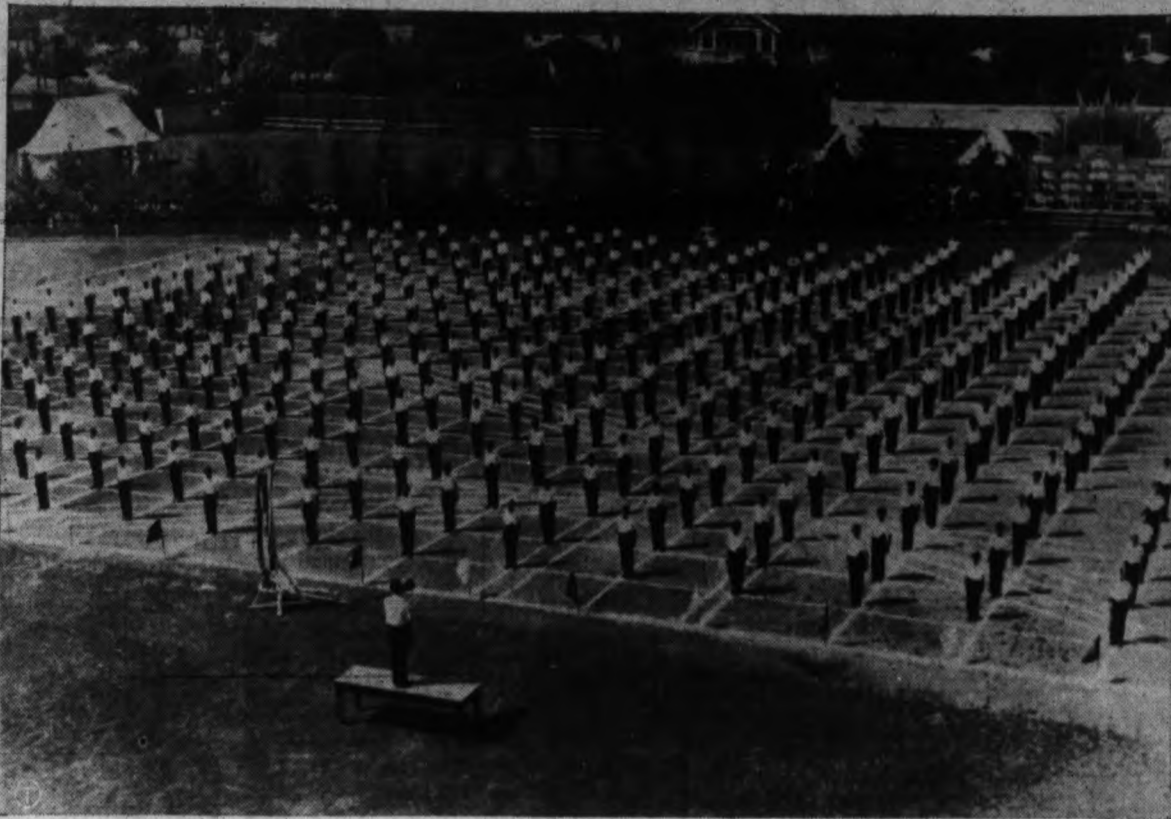

Amendments to by-laws dealing with traffic regulations were passed. The Duncan Hospital Association will be asked to clear a portion of their land to improve parking conditions near the hospital.

Leo Helen was appointed as building inspector and assistant fire marshal.

Wages for city labor, it was decided, will be raised from $3 to $3.20.

At the close of the Civil War, America was a continent more than three months wide; to-day, by the best trains, it is three days wide, while planes reduce that to mere hours.

CADETS GIVE DISPLAY OF PHYSICAL TRAINING

Cadets from the Victoria elementary schools, 400 in number, staged one of the most applauded acts of the Victoria schools' Jubilee pageant at the Royal Athletic Park yesterday afternoon. Under the command of Joe Ross, the eighteen rows of boys went through a number of spectacular physical exercises without a single hitch. The spectators in the grandstand had a wonderful view of this mass of boys. The above photograph was taken from the roof of the grandstand. Behind the boys can be seen the two screens of broom and fir trees which turned the park into a beautiful arena.

HARPER BACK FROM EAST

Acting-director of Observatory Tells of Royal Society Meeting

Dr. W. E. Harper, acting director of the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory, who has been in the east attending the meeting of the Royal Society in Hamilton, and the opening of the new Dunlap Observatory near Toronto, returned to the city on Tuesday afternoon.

Dr. Harper reported a pleasant trip with conditions, so far as they could be judged casually, somewhat improved over last year. The prairies have had welcome showers; in fact northern Alberta has had almost too much rain to permit of seeding operations being completed. The spring season is much later all across Canada than last year.

The Royal Society met this year for the first time in Hamilton, being accommodated at McMaster University, which about five years ago moved from Toronto to that city. The university has extensive grounds well laid out.

MEDALS PRESENTED

Twenty-one new fellows had been elected by the various sections, and three additional were elected by the council. The three so elected were Hon. Vincent Massey, Dr. E. S. Archibald and Rev. Dr. H. J. Cody. The society each year awards three medals known as the Flavelle, Lorne Pierce and Tyrell, named after the persons providing them. The Flavelle medal was awarded to Dr. Frank T. Shutt, recently retired as chemist at the Experimental Farm, Ottawa. The Lorne Pierce medal was awarded to Brig.-Gen. Cruikshank for historical contributions and the Tyrell medal went to Dr. E. Montepetit.

The society has also the awarding of ten fellowships valued at $1,500 each to young students intending to pursue research. Dr. Andrew McKellar, recently appointed to the observatory here, was rated highest. It is understood, but cannot hold it as he is now appointed to a permanent position. James A. Gibson, a local student, also won one of these fellowships.

There is some doubt as to whether moneys will be available from the Carnegie fund to continue these fellowships, after the five-year term, originally arranged, has expired next year.

The address of the retiring president, Dr. Lash Miller, was a summary of the advances in physical chemistry during the last three decades, in which he has headed that department in the University of Toronto. The popular lecture by Professor L. M. Gould, the geologist, who accompanied Byrd to the Antarctic a few years ago, was highly praised, and his still and motion pictures of that expedition were admirable.

The sectional meetings were well attended, but section 3, in which Mr. Harper is interested, was literally "flooded" with papers, 129 being in the printed list. Compared with the list of papers for section 1, dealing with French literature, and eighteen for section 2, dealing with English literature and history. In the latter Judge Howay of New Westminster was down for an interesting paper on "Negro Immigration into Vancouver Island in 1858."

LARGEST TELESCOPE

The opening of the David Dunlap Observatory at Richmond Hill, twenty miles north of Toronto, on May 31, was a red-letter day for Professor C. A. Chant and for the University of Toronto, which that day accepted the gift of this $500,000 institution from Mrs. Dunlap.

President Cody presided, and after Mrs. Dunlap had turned over the building to the university, brief speeches were given by Lieutenant-Governor Bruce, Professor Chant, Cyril Young, representing the makers of the telescope, Sir Frank Dyson of England, Professor H. D. Curtis, director of the University of Michigan Observatory; Professor Harlow Shapley, director of the Harvard College Observatory, and Dr. Harper, who brought greetings from the local observatory.

While much good natured banter occurred in the speeches that the Victoria Observatory would now have to yield precedence to the Toronto one, since the latter telescope is two inches greater in diameter, Dr. Harper countered with the advantages of a British Columbia climate, and the consequent high quality of the observation as easily offsetting a handicap of a mere couple of inches in size of the telescope.

DEGREES CONFERRED

The opening of the observatory was the occasion of a special convocation of the University of Toronto when six honorary degrees were conferred. Sir Frank Dyson, former astronomer Royal of England; Mrs. Dunlap and Professor Chant were given the degree of Doctor of Laws (LL.D.). Professor Shapley of Harvard, Professor Sipher of the Lowell Observatory and Dr. Harper were awarded the degree of Doctor of Science (D.Sc.). Brief addresses were given by all the recipients after the degrees were conferred, and a few appreciative remarks were made by Sir Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King in conclusion.

COLLEGE OLD BOYS REUNION

Former Students at Upper Canada Institution Exchange Reminiscences

Ten old boys of Upper Canada College, now residents of Victoria and Vancouver Island, took part in an enjoyable reunion dinner at the Union Club yesterday evening, presided over by G. H. Harman, vice-president of the Upper Canada College Old Boys' Association.

A toast to the college was proposed by Colonel C. R. Hodgins, who paid tribute to the old school and suggested the members write the institution "to let them know we are still Canadians and still remember our old school."

Reminiscences of happy days spent at the college were recalled by the members, who gave humorous anecdotes about their colleagues and teachers. Tribute to Dr. W. Lawson Grant, prominent Canadian educationist, who died this year while principal of the college, was paid by the gathering. Some of the newer improvements which had been effected at the school were outlined by Lieut.-Colonel Eric Pepler, K.C., who visited the college recently.

LETTERS READ

Letters of greetings were read from George C. Gale, president of the Old Boys' Association, and William Mowbray, interim principal, from the time of Dr. Grant's death to the appointment of Terence W. MacDermot, who was a former McGill University instructor and associated with the League of Nations Society of Canada.

These messages also told of present day conditions at the school and the Conference in Vancouver Planned By New B.C. Medical Officer

Forces engaged in combatting tuberculosis in British Columbia will meet at a conference in Vancouver next month to discuss the co-ordination of their attack against the disease, Hon. G. M. Weir, Provincial Secretary, announced to-day.

Dr. W. H. Hatfield, recently appointed medical director of tuberculosis control for British Columbia, is organizing the meeting, which is scheduled for July 8, 9 and 10.

"It is proposed," said Dr. Weir, "that there be carried on a thorough-going provincial attack on the problem of tuberculosis."

Tuberculosis is an infectious disease which is definitely subject to control and almost total eradication as in the case of diphtheria, smallpox, typhoid fever and other diseases which modern public health methods have practically eliminated.

"But in British Columbia, nearly 600 people die from tuberculosis each year and several thousand others are partially or wholly incapacitated by the disease at any given time."

"The cost of caring for the sufferers from the tuberculosis and for their dependent families falls very largely upon the tax-paying public. It will be far cheaper, as well as far more humane, to extend prevention work and to control the spread of the disease."

The province, he explained, has already done a great deal to meet the problems of tuberculosis through maintaining Tranquille Sanatorium and a traveling tuberculosis clinic. But there has not been an integrated provincial programme to bring together the work of the province, the work of Vancouver and other municipalities, the work of private physicians and the work of private groups.

"It is believed," he continued, "that a fully co-ordinated provincial programme will eliminate much overlapping and much waste effort and will activities of the institution which had been changed through the efforts of Hon. Vincent Massey.

Those attending the dinner were: Mr. Harman, Colonel Hodgins, Dr. W. A. Richardson, Colonel Pepler, Hugh Peters, Richard P. Hinton, Arthur D. Morris, W. P. Unsworth, W. A. Patterson and George A. Davidson.

Neilson's

Success achieved by Dr. Hatfield in tuberculosis work at the Vancouver General Hospital resulted in his selection for the new position, the minister said. For the last three years he has been in charge of the Vancouver Public Health Institute for Diseases of the Chest and from 1931 to 1934 the number of T.B. deaths in Vancouver has declined from 213 to 158.

SCHOOL REPAIR PLAN APPROVED

Saanich Trustees to Spend Between $6,000 and $7,000 on Works

Expenditure of between $6,000 and $7,000 on the repainting and general repairing of six Saanich schools was authorized by the municipal school board yesterday evening.

The work will commence during the summer vacation, and funds will come from an appropriation made by the trustees in their 1935 estimates in connection with their rotation plan for school renovation work.

Tenders for the work will probably be opened at the next board meeting on June 19. They are to be called for immediately.

Schools to be affected by the work are: Keating, Strawberry Vale, Royal Oak, Saanichton, Prospect Lake and Cloverdale. The latter institution will be re-roofed.

The work will commence shortly after the summer closing, and will be completed during July and August, preparatory to fall opening. It will be carried out under the supervision of the works committee, of which Trustee A. E. Hull is chairman.

Yesterday evening, Trustee Hull presented a report on the expenditure of $1,500 by the works committee to date. This was the year's appropriation for ground works, and $125 still remains in the account.

Copenhagen, June 6 (Associated Press).—Count Court Haugwitz-Reventlow asserted to-day that he and his Woodworth heiress bride, the former Barbara Hutton, will reside in Europe because of "fear of gangsters" in the United States. They may make their permanent home in Brazil.

The former Princess Alexis Molitov asserted she is "awfully happy," and described her count as "the most charming man I ever met."

But the fleet operator has a better method

You can feel, or taste, or see the difference in value between most things you buy... clothes, food, automobiles... but when it comes to gasoline you WONDER???

You notice that your engine seems to know the difference, but you're not quite sure that you do.

It may help you to know how the big fleet operator buys his gasoline... thousands, millions of gallons a year.

The big fleet operator buys on scientific tests... tests of starting and tests of acceleration. No guesswork.

Now here is a significant fact; The regular Texaco Fire-Chief gasoline, for sale along the road anywhere, not only meets the big operators' specifications for power and speed, but actually surpasses them.

This means that you can have in your tank, at no extra cost, the same quick starting power, the same extra power, and the same extra mileage that the big fleet operator requires for vehicles that must give the highest degree of service.

This is a fact... you can base your judgment on it.

Twenty-two Years Successful Business

The Way Beyond

By JEFFERY FARNOL

"Pint Number Van: Sir P. V. and Lord A. though neighbors, has never been friends. Agreed, ma'am?"

"Yes, Mr. Shrig—hesitantly! Lord Abbeyside was—but pray continue."

"Pint Number Two: Sir P. V. is rich and spends a most of money on his estates—Lord A. ain't and lets his estates go to rack and ruin as tenants either. Agreed, ma'am?"

"Quite true, Mr. Shrig."

"Pint Number Three: For years Sir P. V. and Lord A. have disagreed about a right of way. They've also disagreed in politics, religion, on the magistrate's bench and off, in short, they ain't never agreed in nothing votsoever. Yes or no, ma'am?"

"Indeed—yes, although—"

"Pint Number Four: Sir P. V. and the Earl of A. has been heered to come to words pretty frequently—partially for a road as Sir P. V. has a cutting off. Agreed, ma'am?"

"Yes—yes, I think there was some little friction, but no real quarrel, Mr. Shrig."

"Pint Number Five: It is also in evidence that Mr. Richard Wharfed threatened said Lord A. with personal violence, and has been heered to declare as said Lord A. deserved and ought to be shot! Agreed, ma'am?"

"No! No—certainly not! Richard did not! I never heard he had made such dreadful threat. . . . And if ever he did, it was in the righteous host of the moment and meant nothing! Richard is quite, quite incapable of such wickedness as you will agree when you meet him."

"Wery likely, ma'am, but then I ain't justice, and justice, being so outrageous blind, might not. And a threat agin life, spoke hot or cold, ain't easy forgot, and don't never do the threatener no manner of good. Pint Number Five: On the fatal night as the fact was committed, Mr. R. was seen approaching Abbeyside, but—like a ordinary wiser—by the front door, but furtive and shy—from the rear."

"Richard is never furtive or shy?"

"Agreed, ma'am! But justice, not knowing said young gent, might take 'tother view—and would! Pint Number Six: On the same fatal night and soon after Mr. R. is seen, Sir P. V. comes a following him—and—not by the door neither but, like Mr. R. in werry suspicious manner, furtive and shy, creeping cautious arter his son."

"Mr. Shrig, never in this world! Sir Peter couldn't possibly creep—under any circumstances."

"Praps not, me lady. Having took a good peep at said gen'lman in Lewes market, I think not, but—I ain't justice, nor yet the judge and jury as may have the trying of him!"

Now at this, Rosemary uttered an inarticulate cry of horror, Miss Janet started so violently that she clasped, while Charmin sat, right and mite, gazing large-eyed into Mr. Shrig's face that now seemed very stern and grim indeed.

"You don't . . . you can't think," she faltered, "can ever come to . . . a trial—Sir Peter! Charged with murder! My dear son! No! No! It is impossible!"

"My lady," said Mr. Shrig, his voice a little huskier, "it is so wery possible that I'm here to do what I can to prevent. For lookee, ma'am! Your husband and son was as Abbeyside that night—rich as bad enough! But they was seen—rich is a sight worse. Can they deny the fact—on oath? No! Tell then, can they explain the fact?"

"Yes—oh yes! Richard will tell you he went there . . . because he could not sleep . . . he was werry anxious about Rosemary . . . Miss Ford here, so he rode over."

"—Miss Ford?" exclaimed Mr. Shrig, his keen gaze upon Rosemary's pale, anxious loveliness. "So you was at Abbeyside that night, too?"

"Yes, sir," she answered, meeting his fiercely keen gaze with unfaltering regard. "I was staying there as governess to Lady Bedingham's children, the Earl of Abbeyside's sister."

"Ford—Rosemary . . . murmured Mr. Shrig, carefully inscribing the names in his "little book."

"Ah!" quoth he, and at a moment, lips pursed in soundless whistle, and staring at nothing in particular, then turning suddenly upon my lady, "so then, ma'am, Mr. R. being anxious about Miss Ford—wery I'll say reason for same, later on—Mr. R. rides to Abbeyside and how then?"

"He . . . he wished just to be near her, Mr. Shrig . . . But his father happening to see him gallop off so wildly at such hour, rode after him to . . . to bring him back . . . So you see, Mr. Shrig, it is all quite reasonable when explained. You see this, don't you? Oh . . . don't you?" Once again Mr. Shrig pursed his shaven lips as if about to whistle, but instead of so doing, shook his head slowly from side to side.

"All I ax, me lady, is—can they prove it? Have they ext ax? As she can swear for her expression?"

"No," answered Charmin, shrinking before the expression of her questioner's face.

"Then, ma'am," said he, gently but remorselessly, "do you can any or you think as any strangers—any judge or jury could believe such a tale? No, I see as you don't! And—no more do I!"

"Oh, but . . . the inquest!" gasped Charmin, wringing tremulous hands. "The inquest proved it was suicide."

"That inquest, ma'am, meant nothing and proved less! A crowner as asks no more than 'd—according to the reports—a jury of country lads as was content to ax nothing at all! But wun fact did come out in evidence, a fact as first set me thinking—ma'am, the deceased Lord A. was shot into the left temple and yet was known to be, ever and alive—right—'anded!"

"Then, what . . . what do you suggest?"

"My lady, 'tis pretty sure and certain as deceased was shot by some other party."

For a long moment Charmin gazed speechlessly at this shrewd person whose round placid face seemed but a mask for the astute and penetrating sagacity of the real man, and rising impulsively she came and reached out her hand to him, saying:

"Mr. Shrig, you have shown and warned me quite unimagined perils and for this I thank you—now show me how to escape them and my gratitude will be beyond expression."

Mr. Shrig rose, took that soft hand, shook it, dropped it and nodded:

"Lady Winton," said he, "I took up this here case first of all again windmillstone, now I'm going to do all as I can for your sake, ma'am, but I must be told all the facts as is known if I'm to any ways help your folk—for proofs 's the word, ma'am—proof! Prove 'em innocent or—some other party guilty!"

"Yes, but . . . oh, Mr. Shrig—how?"

"Ma'am, since you ax so panted, I'll answer you full and free, m'lady! I dunno, yet! Here, sitting down again rather suddenly, he turned and beamed on Rosemary.

"You, ma'am," quoth he, "the question is, how much can you tell us? Since you was at Abbeyside that 'ere night you may praps have seen or heered summat—the fatal shot trinitance, eh—come now?"

"I will tell you all I can," she answered, facing him resolutely now, "but I heard no shot."

"Then praps you might chance to ha' seen the body, or, as you might say, ca-daver, eh, Miss Ford?"

Rosemary shivered and glanced, mutely questioning, at Charmin.

"Yes, dear child," sighed my lady, seating herself beside Rosemary on the settee, "tell Mr. Shrig all you saw, all you heerd—every hateful detail."

So, clearly and briefly as possible, Rosemary described the incidents of that too eventful night while her listeners sat dumb, all three, until the story was told.

Sister MARY'S KITCHEN

CHERRIES DON'T HAVE TO BE MADE INTO PIES

By MARY E. BAGUE

About six weeks before our cherries are ripe, I get so hungry for a great deep, juice-dripping cherry pie, made without skipping on butter and sugar, that I think I can't possibly wait, but I do—how worth waiting for it is, too!

In this country, cherry season and buying come along about the same time and some of the cherry puddings that the farm housewife makes for dinner dessert for men working in the hay field are hearty enough to make a full luncheon for the person working in the city office. Black cherry pudding, for example, made by an old family recipe, was often served by my grandmother after a lavish noon-day dinner of meat and vegetables, huge pitchers of milk, tall stacks of bread.

My own family likes this pudding for luncheon, too, but we line that a salad with sandwiches or rolls is all we need to precede the pudding.

BLACK CHERRY PUDDING

Two cups rich milk, 5 tablespoons butter, 1 cup sugar, 1 teaspoon lemon rind, 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg, 1/2 teaspoon cloves, 4 eggs, 1 cup fine toast crumbs, 1 quart black cherries.

Graham crackers crumbs can be used in place of toast crumbs. Either must be very finely crushed. Beat eggs and add butter. Beat yolks of eggs until thick and lemon colored, beating in sugar, spices and lemon rind. Slowly add hot milk, stirring thoroughly dissolve the sugar. Mix crumbs and pitted cherries and add to first mixture. Fold in whites of eggs beaten until stiff. Turn into a buttered baking dish and bake in a moderate oven until firm to the touch. It will take about forty minutes. Serve with or without whipped cream.

CHERRY ICE

Four cups sour cherries, 2-3 cups water, 1-2 cups sugar, 2 teaspoons granulated gelatin, 1 tablespoon cold water.

Pit cherries. Cook sugar and water and add cherries. Let stand until cold and force through a coarse sieve. Soften gelatin in cold water and dissolve over boiling water. Add fruit. Turn into freezer and pack in four parts ice to one part ice cream salt and let stand until firm. Or turn into freezing tray and freeze in automatic refrigerator.

TO-MORROW'S MENU

Breakfast: Shredded pineapple, cereal, cream, buttermilk pancakes, maple syrup, milk, coffee.

Luncheon: Jellied tomato bouillon, radishes and celery, salmon and green pea salad, hot rolls, black cherry pudding, milk, tea.

Dinner: Slice of ham baked in milk, potatoes julienne, buttered green beans, spinach and egg salad, fresh fruits in lemon jelly, milk, coffee.

TWO DIE IN AUTO CRASH

Canadian Press—Two Kingston women were killed instantly last night and their men companions were critically injured in an automobile accident ten miles west of here. Those killed were Miss H. Webber and Miss S. Quick.

Police said there was little chance of Ray Baker of Kingston and J. Robinson of Ottawa, occupants of the car with the women, recovering from their injuries.

Turning out to pass a transport truck on the highway, the passenger car met a second transport and was crushed between the two trucks. Miss Webber and Miss Quick were dead when doctors arrived at the scene of the accident.

HOME WEDDING
PRETTY SCENE

Miss M. D. Loughney and
Mr. H. J. Whitehead
United in Marriage

At the home of the bride's parents, at 7:30 o'clock yesterday evening, Rev. G. A. Reynolds, united in marriage Mary Donald (Mae), youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Loughney, 2834 Wark Street, and Mr. Robert James Whitehead, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Whitehead, 30 Olympia Avenue.

During the ceremony the bride and groom stood in a window embrasure banked with white snowballs and asters, beneath a floral arch and bell.

The wedding march was played by Miss Irene Wallace, and as the register was being signed, Mr. J. Vanier sang "Because."

Mr. Loughney gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a charming frock which was fashioned with a cowl of white angel crepe, the bodice of neck, and a lace yoke and sleeves, and fastened down the back with tiny crystal buttons. Her embroidered veil was arranged in a halo across her brow and caught at the back with a strand of orange blossoms, and she carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Muriel Strong, a niece of the bride, was her only attendant, and wore a frock of yellow silk net with a matching lace hat, and carried a bouquet of mauve sweet peas and roses. The best man was Mr. Robert Mee.

About seventy guests were present at the service, and at the reception which followed. Mrs. Loughney was dressed in a gown of brown georgette, and a brown hat, and Mrs. Whitehead was in grey. The supper table was centred with the handsome wedding cake, and was arranged with vases of lilies of the valley, and tall white candles in silver holders.

Mr. and Mrs. Whitehead left at midnight for Vancouver, the bride going away in a navy blue tweed suit and white accessories. On their return, they will make their home in Victoria for a time, and will later reside at Sooke.

W.I. SUGGEST

PER CAPITA TAX

A suggestion from the South Vancouver Island District Women's Institute that a per capita tax of twenty cents be paid in 1935-1936 toward the financing of a provincial conference was supported by the district board at its meeting held yesterday at the Legislative Buildings.

A copy of the resolution is being sent also to all district secretaries throughout British Columbia, in the hope that the provincial conference held next year will be a success.

Mrs. T. O. Robson presided at the meeting, other members present being Mrs. W. S. Webster, secretary; Mrs. J. L. White, Mrs. W. H. Booth and Miss L. Savory. Mrs. J. D. Gordon, provincial president, was also present.

The board discussed many matters of routine business. One point of special interest was the decision to hold the annual district conference on October 8 and 10 at the Legislative Buildings. In discussing the programme, plans were made whereby more time would be given to consideration of institute work.

NURSE SUES EARL OF EGMONT

Alberta's Millionaire Ranchman Settles Case With Unspecified Sum

Calgary, June 6.—Alberta's millionaire ranchman, the Earl of Egmont, sued for $50 by Miss Rita Kerchoff, a Calgary nurse, has settled for an unspecified sum, it was announced in the district court to-day.

Judge W. A. Macdonald, who ruled there had been a breach of contract, was advised of the settlement.

Your Baby and Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

MRS. ELDRED SUGGESTS REMEDIES TO AID CAR-SICK BABY
During this period when trips and traveling are the order of the day, a disheartening problem faces the mother whose child suffers from nausea the moment she enters a moving vehicle.

Mrs. F. J. Y. is bewildered as to what to do. "We like to take trips into the country every Saturday or Sunday, but my little two-year-old always gets deathly sick and vomits. She gets blue and even in a street car and once when we went on a train she was sick the whole time."

"I have tried feeding her before we left, and after we got there, but this seems to have no effect upon her. She is sick just the same. I don't know what to do. Have you any suggestions?"

LET CHILD LIE DOWN

I have suggestions, but no panacea, as I know some. This tendency is controlled by the fluid in the ear canals, which is influenced by motion, and which establishes the body equilibrium. Don't ask me how or why. The most sensible course, it seems to me, is to prevent the child from being put in a position which makes it necessary for her to have to establish equilibrium. If she lies down, and stays quiet, there should be no effort, and no loss of balance and consequent nausea.

It is possible, too, that the slight or swiftly moving scenery may nauseate the child. In that case keeping the child's eyes closed would prevent disaster.

Then, we can't forget that some children are made nervously ill just from excitement. Their stomachs are turned before the moving vehicle moves.

When adults play upon this excitement by efforts to arouse the child's interest and anticipation, they are responsible when the outcome is more violent than they expected.

It seems more sensible to feed the child, if a feeding is due. To start an excited child upon a journey with an empty stomach would be to court the very nausea we are trying to prevent.

Our leaflet on "Traveling With Baby" offers other suggestions which should prove valuable to the mother about to embark on any act of trip. It may be had by sending a self-addressed and 3c stamped envelope to Myrtle Meyer Eldred, care of the "Your Baby and Mine" department of this newspaper.

QUEEN PREFERS NATURAL FOLK

Easy to Get on With Her Majesty If One Chats Freely, Writer Says

Canadian Press
Manchester, Eng., June 6. — In the Jubilee number of The Guardian, a contributor writes about Queen Mary this way:
The Queen's mind is powerful rather than quick. She once said to a friend, "I find it a great effort to think of something fresh to say to everyone I meet." The friend replied, "Oh, Your Majesty should not try. If I were in your place I should think of something nice to say when I got out of bed and say it to everyone I met that day." But the Queen replied, "Oh, no, you would not. The press would get hold of it and say that you were insincere." Whatever she says is going on well!

At a first meeting people often leave all the conversation to Her Majesty, and so find her difficult to get on with, and think her reserved. A very slight acquaintance, however, helps them to realize her extraordinary kindness of heart and the way in which she never forgets anyone she has ever met, or misses a chance to do a kindness. If she has been interested in any case of suffering or want, and meets the person who brought it to her notice again, it may be twenty years after, she will at once say, "And how is so-and-so? I hope everything is going on well?"

In fact anyone who will chat freely with the Queen as he would with any other lady, relying on her kindness and sympathy, will find her at once easy to get on with and charming. Her wide knowledge of the subjects that do interest her, her readiness to say when she is not an authority on any subject, her ready humor and her sincere kindness make a conversation with her a thing to remember. Her chief interest in life now is undoubtedly the little Princess Elizabeth. She is wrapped up in her, and no wonder; for a more charming little girl, or one more completely unspoiled by her high position, it would be impossible to meet.

Queen Alexandra Review—At the meeting of Queen Alexandra Review No. 1, W.B.A., held on Monday evening, it was announced that the annual church service will be held on Sunday morning, June 16, at the First Baptist Church. Members are asked to meet at the corner of Quadra Street and Pandora Avenue at 10.40 o'clock. Officers and guard teams are asked to wear white to the service. A report of the dinner held on Thursday last week was given by the president, The monthly meeting of the Pioneers' Club will be held on Friday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of the president, Mrs. C. Laing. The flower show to be held on August 26 were discussed by the members of the Lake Hill Institute at the meeting held Tuesday afternoon. Miss Mabel

Victoria for eleven of the past fourteen years, the difference of three years being spent in an adjacent municipality.

Returning to Victoria last summer we eventually were forced to apply for relief, and learn we are married transients and have to maintain a family of seven besides ourselves on forty-two dollars per month, the rate paid in the municipality we moved from, or approximately seven dollars monthly less than the city relief cases with the same number. Also it would point out that the provincial government pays married transients from the prairie provinces more than I receive who have never left Greater Victoria. Further, I would like to know how I am to clothe seven children on forty-two dollars with the welfare office closed. It would seem apparent that if the welfare association is short of funds its first duty would be to provide for the needy rather than continue payment of salaries to its staff (or are their services given in love?) As the welfare association is mainly supported by public subscription, I feel sure the same generous public would appreciate an answer at least to the latter question.

THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS

To the Editor:—The letter from the pen of Mr. Averil on this subject, which appeared earlier in the week, as comment on your editorial in defence of Hitler, appears to carry a hint of something so sinister that I cannot allow it to pass unchallenged. Mr. Averil is the organizing secretary of the local unit of the league, and we can presume, therefore, that he writes not only with authority, but with deliberate intent.

There are two alternate conclusions to be drawn from his carefully-worded letter. In which he decries those who talk of inevitable war, and in which he condones Germany's rearmament.

The first conclusion, then, is that the league has thrown up the sponge in face of the frantic race now proceeding, admitting its complete inability to either prevent or even limit the ever-increasing aggregation of cannon and fodder.

This is the counsel of despair and it is bad enough. But it pales into insignificance beside the alternate conclusion which is that the league submitting to "fore majeure" has gone Fascist!

The basis of his argument in favor of Hitler's world-shaking decision to rebuild a colossal war machine was that as France and Russia had already immense armies this was quite logical on his part.

No sane man entertains any suspicion of Russia seeking territorial aggrandisement. Her army is purely a defensive weapon against a hostile and apparently insane world. Her diplomacy, more especially of late, has been earnestly used in the cause of world peace.

France has had two bitter lessons since 1870, which it would be the height of foolishness to forget, and she suffered on both occasions from the madness of Germany's ruler. History has a habit of repeating itself, is it, although a trite saying, undoubtedly very much to the point in this case.

It is significant that Mr. Averil does not mention England, where the league recently carried out a plebiscite on the disarmament question.

QUIVERING NERVES

are Calm and Steady Now

ANY woman's nerves may be upset once in a while. But don't let it be a habit. Are you cross and unreasonable? Do you cry easily and become hysterical? Such things are often symptoms of feminine upsets. Take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It quiets quivering nerves—makes you eat and sleep better. Life will not be such a burden.

"It Steadied My Nerves" says Mrs. James Dawson of 90 Glendale Avenue North, Hamilton, Ontario. "Your Vegetable Compound helped me at the Change of Life. It steadied my nerves. I have excellent color now and a good appetite. Most of the time I feel well and strong. Once in a while I get nervous or rundown. Then I take Lydia Pinkham's again to help. I certainly recommend it."

Just Ask Your Friends

Probably some of them know from personal experience what this medicine will do. Better still, get a bottle NOW and try it yourself.

Painful Piles

Go Quick—Prevent Cutting—No Suffering

When sore and painful Piles distress and upset you, and salves give inefficient or only temporary help, and while it is to avoid operation, it is best to at once try HEM-ROID—the internal remedy for piles.

Dr. J. S. Leonhardt was convinced early in his career that the cause of Piles was internal—bad circulation of blood in the lower bowel—the hemorrhoidal veins filled with stagnant blood—and that the right and safe way to get freedom from Pile agony was to remove the cause with an internal medicine. Immediately the doctor set to work to find a remedy. He succeeded and called his prescription HEM-ROID.

Pile sufferers everywhere are benefiting by Dr. Leonhardt's internal treatment so why doubt or delay longer when MacFarlane and Vancouver Drug Store, and other good druggists say: "No matter what kind of Piles you have, one bottle of HEM-ROID tablets must show you the safe clean way to get rid of your pile misery of money back." New Attack On Tuberculosis

Montreal Physician Uses Maggots; Says Two Patients Cured

Canadian Press

New York, June 6.—Maggots eat tubercle bacilli and may be used for the treatment of diseases of the lungs, Dr. Norman Bethune, chief chest surgeon of the Sacre Coeur Hospital in Montreal, told members of the American Association for Thoracic Surgery in convention here yesterday.

Reporting on a series of cases in this new treatment of tuberculosis of the pleura, gangrene and lung abscess—the first ever to be attempted—Dr. Bethune said that when sterile-bred living maggots were placed in diseased lungs they not only ate away the dead tissue, but ate the tubercle bacilli as well. The living tissues were never touched.

Dr. Bethune also announced he had discovered the secretion produced by the maggots would hasten the coagulation of the blood and so prevent hemorrhages. He suggested this secretion might also be used to stop hemorrhage in other parts of the body and might be applied to the draining of wounds which refused to close under ordinary treatment.

WASHED AWAY

After the maggots have cleaned up the infected wound more completely than any chemical antiseptic, they die in about a week, the distinguished surgeon stated, and then are washed away.

In spite of eating the tubercle bacilli, the maggots remain unaffected by the germs and never contract the disease. They possess a natural immunity to tuberculosis, which is being investigated, the doctor said.

Dr. Bethune further reported patients, all of whom were greatly improved in the course of the treatment and two of whom were completely cured, found the treatment painless and had, in fact, experienced no discomfort beyond a slight tickling sensation when the maggots, after finishing their work, attempted to escape from the wound.

USEFUL ADJUNCT

The noted Canadian surgeon added: "We are not claiming maggots will cure tuberculosis of the pleura by themselves. They are, in our hands, a useful adjunct to operative treatment such as thoracoplasty, and will

Arthur H. Evans, Communist No. 1 in British Columbia, wrecker of industry, exploiter of labour.

ARTHUR H. EVANS

B.C. Communist Leader Directs Strikes

Red Leader Exploits Labour To Promote Chaos

Record of Evans Proves He Is No Friend of the Working Man

The present crop of strikes and threatened strikes throughout British Columbia are being fomented and directed by Arthur H. Evans, and his associate, Jack Taylor, born in Ukrainia, under the name of Ulrich or Ulrick.

Evans is the Secretary and Organizer of the Workers' Unity League in British Columbia.

Arthur Evans has a record of betrayal of labour. Ask the miners of Drumheller. Or get his record from the Citizens' League headquarters, 509 Richards Street, Vancouver, B.C.

The Communist Party of Canada on orders from the Communist International at Moscow, formed the Workers' Unity League as its visible agent and as the Party "Trade Union Department."

Arthur Evans is clearly revealed as the leading figure behind an organization whose industry wrecking plans are directed from a FOREIGN COUNTRY.

"The main tasks of the Communist Party of Canada are the organization and leadership of economic struggles. THE BUILDING OF REVOLUTIONARY TRADE UNIONS, and the extension of the Workers' Unity League into a mass movement embodying the revolutionary unions." (From World Communist Congress Manifesto)

Under the guidance of these two red agitators, representatives in British Columbia of the Communist International, Moscow, the following alleged trade unions have been formed as subordinates of the Workers' Unity League:

1. The Relief Camp Workers' Union, which called out 2,000 men from the Dominion Government's relief camps in British Columbia.
2. The Lumber Workers' Industrial Union, which tied up the logging industry in February, 1934.
3. The Mine Workers' Union of Canada, which shut down the Corbin Collieries and deprived 600 men, women and children of their livelihood.
4. Coast Wise Longshoremen's and Freight Handlers' Association.

THE LONGSHOREMEN AND WATER TRANSPORT WORKERS OF CANADA directs the activities of a series of subsidiary locals, including:

- (a) The Seafarers' Industrial Union, whose strike was timed to tie up the holiday makers over the Empire Day week-end.
- (b) The Vancouver and District Waterfront Workers' Association, which refused to submit its differences with the Shipping Federation to a conciliation board, preferring to throw its men out of work and paralyze the vital shipping and export trade of Vancouver.
- (c) The Powell River and District Waterfront Workers' Association, whose strike threatens the livelihoods of the 6,000 people living at Powell River.
- (d) The Fishery and Cannery Workers' Industrial Union, which has struck a series of paralyzing blows at the fishing industry.
- (e) In addition to the above four unions, Evans and Taylor actively participate in the organization of the activities of approximately forty other unions (without charter, within B. C. alone), while others are in the course of formation.

The Citizens' League has been formed to assist and protect you. It is your duty and privilege to protect your job and your home by joining this organization.

H. Warner Flees Kidnap Threat

Movie Magnate Reported to Have Left New York Estate to Protect Daughters

Associated Press

New York, June 6.—The New York Daily News says a kidnap threat against his two daughters caused Harry M. Warner, president of Warner Brothers pictures, Inc., to flee with his family to their home in Hollywood, California, from their Westchester estate this week.

Police Chief Michael J. Silverstein is quoted as saying that last week private detective who for years have guarded Warner's twenty-five-acre estate caught a stranger lurking in the shrubbery. It appeared to be a tramp and was released.

The next or "g. the paper says, Mr. Warner received a telephone call from a man who warned: "Watch out, watch out. Your daughters are going to be kidnapped."

Lawn Bowling

Consideration is now being given to the formation of a Pacific Coast Lawn Bowling Association with the motto, "A Plymouth Hoe in Every Port, on which the sons of Drake depart."

Another manifestation of the increasing popularity of the lawn bowling game is seen in the forthcoming trip of the Capital City bowlers to Seattle on June 15. Facilities for playing this game were provided in Woodland Park last year and it is anticipated that before long there will be a regular schedule of intercity matches all along this coast.

The Victoria team selected to inaugurate these friendly visits will meet the Canadian Pacific Club on Saturday evening next in a preparatory trial of strength. George Vallance, elected captain of the city representatives, will preside at the attendance of the following players promptly at 7 o'clock in the evening: C. F. Smith, H. Cathcart, W. Washington, E. FOXX RETURNS TO FIRST BASE

After Trial as Backstop, Athletics' Slugger Back at Old Job

Associated Press
New York, June 6.—Another big 1935 baseball experiment apparently has been tossed out of the window. Jimmy Foxx is on first base for the Athletics after five weeks of valiant toiling behind the bat, and Connie Mack, silver-haired leader of the Philadelphia team, talks as though he is going to keep him there. Last winter the shifting of Foxx, the return of Babe Ruth to his old Boston stamping grounds, night baseball in Cincinnati and whether the Deans could repeat their 1934 miracle were the current campaign questions.

Now Ruth is out of baseball; a pepped-up and happier Foxx is back at first; the Deans are just a pair of struggling pitchers, and arc-light baseball still is an experiment.

It is more or less of an open secret that Jimmy asked for the transfer back to first base.

AGA KHAN IS KING'S GUEST

London, June 6.—The Aga Khan, winning owner in the Derby yesterday, was King George's chief guest at a stag dinner in Buckingham Palace yesterday evening. Fifty-eight members of the Jockey Club sat down at the table decorated with the Derby winner's colors. The King himself proposed a health to Bahrman's owner.

YACHT CONVERTED INTO HOSPITAL

Canadian Press
St. John's, Nfld., June 6.—A palatial yacht, transformed into a floating hospital, soon will be cruising through Newfoundland's coastal waters to bring relief to isolated outports shut off from prompt medical service many months of the year. She is the $100,000 Cisco, bought by the department of health and public welfare in Brooklyn, N.Y. Rebuilt, she will operate in conjunction with several "cottage hospitals" to be established along the island's east and south coasts between Port aux Basques and Port aux Basques. Between the Cisco and the hospitals, the fishermen of the scattered outports will be afforded year-round medical service for the first time. The steamer-hospital will be on hand to answer wireless appeals from isolated communities.

EIGHT HOURS FOR RAIL MEN

Senate Committee Votes Act Apply to Them Six Months Hence

Canadian Press
Ottawa, June 6.—Railway employees in the running trades will come under provisions of the eight-hour day bill six months after the measure receives royal assent under an amendment passed yesterday by the Senate banking and commerce committee. In adopting the amendment, the committee changed a decision made in the Commons, which put through an amendment granting exemption to this class of railway employees until March 31, 1936. Provisions of the act would apply to other industrial undertakings three months after signing of the bill.

Another amendment alters the provision dealing with offences of employers dealing with offences of employers for breaches of the act. The bill as received from the Commons provided that for each offence an employer would be liable on conviction to a fine not exceeding $100 and not less than $20, in addition to any other penalty prescribed by law for the same offence. The amendment deletes the words "and not less than $20 in addition to any other penalty prescribed by law for the same offence."

In amended form the measure will be reported to the Senate for approval of the changes. Following concurrence the bill will be in a position for third reading.

The Commons then will be asked to agree to the amendments.

U.S. DAVIS CUP PLAYERS SAIL

New York, June 6.—The United States Davis Cup team sailed yesterday for Europe in quest of the international tennis trophy this country lost in 1927.

The veterans, Wimer Allison, Sidney Wood and John Van Ryn, may carry the full burden in the zone finals against the European zone survivors, but there's an outside chance that Gene Mako and Donald Budge, youthful Californians, named to the team for the first time, may be called for doubles duty.

"TORPEDO" TRAINS, 93 MILES AN HOUR

Warsaw, June 6.—The recent inauguration in Poland of new motorized "torpedo" trains traveling at a speed of ninety-three miles an hour has focused on the country the attention of the nation's transportation facilities. On all fronts, by air, sea, road and sea, the government has succeeded in achieving a widespread network and efficient service which to-day surprises the veterans who viewed the devastated Poland of post-war years.

Poland has made a courageous comeback with a vast programme of developing a powerful system of communications. In the last decade or more, a total of 1,000 miles of new railroad tracks have been built, this year six new lines are to be opened, and another 1,000 miles is being planned at a cost of $600,000,000.

FLEET EXPANDING
Poland's new show-place is her new passenger line, starting out without a single ship when it regained its independence. Poland to-day has a fleet of 100 ships, comprising a total of 64,358 tons. The programme has to a great measure progressed around the government-controlled Gdynia-America Line, operating between Gdynia, Copenhagen, Halifax and New York, and two new transatlantic steamers have been built. The Pilsudski, first of the new liners, was launched last December and will make her maiden run in September.

Herbert Lee endorsed notes for more than $1,700 given by a local greenhouse operating company to cover coal bills owing to the Kinsman-Gillespie Coal Company Limited.

Sued in the Supreme Court by E. L. Tait and E. H. M. Foot, counsel for the coal company, called evidence from Charles Graham and P. Cunningham of the coal company, to the effect that Mr. Lee had on a number of occasions agreed to be responsible for the coal company's bill.

Forrest L. Shaw, counsel for Mr. Lee, argued Mr. Lee had endorsed the notes not to assume liability, but only in his capacity as an official of the company. The company had been in difficulties.

Mr. Lee testified, told the court he endorsed only for the company, and had referred the coal officials to others he considered responsible for the business of the nurseries.

Mr. Justice Murphy ruled that as Mr. Lee had endorsed the notes he had to make good. The judge therefore ordered that he should pay the amount sued for by the coal company.

Victoria Boxers To Seek Washington State Titles

Team of Five With Muzz Patrick Will Enter Big Tourney

Kid Garner, Frank Brown, Rex Carey and Bob Parker to Compete

Tourney Billed June 26 and 27

Headed by Murray "Muzz" Patrick, Canadian heavyweight champion, a team of five boxers will go from Victoria in quest of Washington state amateur boxing championships in Seattle on June 26 and 27, it was announced today by Tommy Drysdale, coach, who will look after the boys.

Patrick, along with Kid Garner and Frank Brown, 160 pounders, will carry the colors of the Fifth Brigade, while Rex Carey, 160 pounds, and Bob Parker, 112 pounds, will compete as members of the Canadian Scottish. The championships will be the biggest from a point of view of entries in the history of the state tourney, according to word from Seattle. Already 200 fighters have stated their intention of competing for the laurels. They will be gathered from all parts of the northwest and down the Coast as far as California.

All profits from the tourney will be turned over to the Seattle Visiting Nurse Service, which renders medical aid to poor families in the Sound City.

Following his successful campaign through the Canadian amateur meet, Patrick is given a fair chance against the leading heavyweights of the northwest in the forthcoming tourney.

The other Victoria boys should also make very fair showings, according to Drysdale. They will be put through strenuous workout periods in preparation for the contests, and should be in good shape by the time they step on the ring in the Seattle ring.

In addition to the excellent trophies that will be presented to first, second and third finishers, the boys who finish near the top will enjoy a considerable amount of prestige since the calibre of fighters will be particularly high.

The tourney will give the local boys a good chance to increase their ring experience, and should be of considerable value in laying any buck fever they may now have.

TERRY PEERS HAS GOOD DAY

Victoria Club Cricketer Plays Big Part in Victory Over Hudson's Bay

Scoring thirty-six runs after he had bagged seven wickets for twenty-six runs, Terry Peers was largely responsible for the 84 to 67 victory of the Victoria Cricket Club over Hudson's Bay in a Wednesday League fixture at Beacon Hill Park yesterday.

In the Hudson's Bay innings, five men were dismissed for "duck's eggs." Peers getting four of these wickets, F. Tyrrell, however, hit up 21 and M. Turner registered 17.

Peers opened the Victoria Club's innings with bat, and was far and away the best scorer. Barclay got 13 and Clark 11. Wilkinson claimed three Victoria wickets for 19 and Tyrrell two for 9.

The Manitoba Golf Association yesterday.

The quartette of Manitoba's shot-makers boast a fine record in competitive golf. Donovan, as member of the all-star Canadian team, to tour the British Isles, made a creditable showing in the British amateur golf tournament. Palmer reached the semi-finals of the Canadian amateur championships last year, while Reith and Kennedy playing in city and district medal tournament, finished first and second, respectively.

Demetral is well known to Victoria followers of the game, while Thompson comes to this city with a smart reputation. A good rugged bout is expected when the two meet. The pair are slated to go five eight-minute rounds. In the main event, Jack Forsgren will meet "Gentleman" Jack Washburn in what promises to be a good rough-and-tumble. They are billed to wrestle eight ten-minute rounds. A local bout will open the programme at 8:45 o'clock.

Maccabees Take Soccer Trophy

Defeat Navy 3 to 2 With Last-minute Goal in McKay Shield Final; Archie Watt Nets Deciding Marker

Playing under a boiling hot sun, the Maccabees' football team came through to win the McKay Shield by defeating a strengthened Navy squad 3 to 2 yesterday afternoon at Heywood Avenue.

Both teams played good ball considering the weather conditions. Archie Watt starred for the Maccabees when he scored the winning goal about a minute before the final whistle. The half-time score stood at 1 to 0 for the Maccabees. The teams were a little off with their shooting. Maccabees opened up the scoring of the match near the end of the initial half. Morris Speller, Maccabees' inside right, after receiving a fine pass from Watt, plunked the ball high into the centre of the net from in front of the goal.

Maccabees held the better part of play at the start of the match, but the Navy improved greatly and held their opponents for the latter part.

A number of fine scoring chances were missed. At the interval the score stood 1 to 0 for the Maccabees.

Twelve minutes after resumption of play the Navy scored on the score. Dave Marr, Navy's clever inside right, found the net, following Walker's pass. The Navy took the lead fifteen minutes later. Robinson's long shot was expertly caught by Sadler, Maccabees' netminder, who endeavored to throw it clear, but Bennalack rushed and headed it out of his hands into the net. The score then stood 2 to 1 for the Navy.

The score was again evened when Archie Watt, Maccabees' centre forward, beat goalie Mundle with a slow ball during a melee in front of the Navy goalmouth.

One minute before fulltime the Maccabees gained the winning marker. Speller's try at a goal hit the crossbar, and the rebound was taken by Archie Watt, who slammed the leather into an empty net, the goalie having come out in an attempt to save.

Better football was displayed in the second half, play most of the time swinging up and down field. Netminder Sadler made a number of fine saves throughout the match.

Dave McMillan handled the whistle. The teams follow:

DIZZY DEAN NOW ON SPOT

Must Prove He Can Take It at Risk of Fine and Suspension

By ALAN GOULD Associated Press

Pittsburgh, June 6.—It was a wide open situation today, not only in respect to the National Open Golf Tournament just starting, but as to whether Dizzy Dean can "take it" much longer and come back with sufficient resources to remain the No. 1 pitcher of the Cardinals, let alone the National League.

The loquacious J. Herman Dean is strictly "on the spot" now on. He admits it himself. He not only has gotten away to a poor start this spring, struggling to keep his percentage above the 500 mark in the pitching averages, but he has talked himself into trouble right up to his ears with his manager, his teammates and a considerable slice of the baseball-following public.

He has risked a stiff fine and suspension for failing to follow manager Frankie Frisch's instructions in the box; for creating a row on the Cardinals bench during Monday's game with the Pittsburgh Pirates here; and for outspoken criticism of his bosses and team-mates.

OUT OF TURN
He is not only charged by Frisch with pitching tactics which have been costly in several games, the world champions have lost so far but accused of repeatedly speaking "out of turn" and upsetting the morale of the club.

Strictly speaking, Dean was on probation to-day as well as "on the spot" from the standpoint of his pitching reputation. "Dean will stick and he will pitch," said Frisch. "He will be all right soon as he remembers that his job is to go out there and give the best he's got at all times when he is in the box. He can't talk himself into winning ball games for us, or talk himself out of losing them when he makes mistakes. It's up to him now to prove he can take it and come back."

"SO MUCH POPOFF"

Frisch, yesterday evening, dismissed as "so much popoff" the trade of Dizzy Dean against his team-mates as an outgrowth of the row on the Cardinals bench during Tuesday's game with the Pirates. At the same time, Frisch served notice on his star pitcher that he must change his tactics and concentrate on playing baseball or suffer the consequences.

"Dean is lucky he didn't get a stiff fine and suspension as a result of the way he acted," said Frisch. "Tuesday he wasn't doing his best out there in the box and he knows it. He has twice in previous games with the Pirates disobeyed my instructions and pitched wrong to Arky Vaughan, with the result we lost both games. He needs to think he can throw the ball past the good hitters, just because he's Dizzy Dean."

Just to help soothe the already well-ruffled feelings of his team-mates, Dean wound up by predicting the pennant race would simply be a "breeze" for New York Giants.

Touring Soccer Machine Drives in 7 to 2 Victory in Last Exhibition in West

Canadian Press

Winnipeg, June 6.—Scotland's touring soccer team were preparing to embark for Toronto today, the prairie end of their North American tour completed with a 7 to 2 victory over a select Winnipeg and district eleven before 6,000 fans yesterday evening.

For fifteen minutes of the first half, the local squad beat back Scotland's smooth-working attack, but the pace became too fast and "Daisy" Duncan dribbled the ball through Winnipeg's defenders to leave Daisy helpless with an angle shot. Willie Miller, slender twenty-year-old, flicked Main's cross into the net with his head for Scotland's second goal four minutes later, and the same player made it 3 to 0 on Galloway's carping pass from the right.

The tourists eased the pressure somewhat and Winnipeg took advantage to initiate an attack that bore fruit when Bobby Hampton crashed George Pickup's cross past Stevenson. Bill Miller, who sniped two goals from his inside-right berth, made the score 4 to 1 with a rasping drive from outside the penalty area, a minute before half-time.

HAMPTON SCORES SECOND
Hampton drove Winnipeg's second goal of the match past Stevenson with a first-time effort five minutes after the last half started, cutting Scotland's advantage to 4 to 2. Hughie Galloway's masterly scheming was justly rewarded with fifteen minutes gone when the little centre-forward beat the defence cold for Scotland's fifth goal. Hughie added another a minute later just after Davis had taken the ball off his toes. Bill Miller whipped home the seventh.

Washington Leaves For Poughkeepsie

Seattle University Crews Hopeful For Titles at Big Regatta in New York

Associated Press
Seattle, June 6.—Buoyed up by a hilarious send-off and a demand to "keep the Hudson" and equal Cornell's feat of twenty-five years ago, three University of Washington crews, a half dozen officials and coaches and supporters entrained yesterday evening for the Poughkeepsie regatta.

The spirits and physical well-being of the finely-trained oarsmen appeared at a peak, as the party left. They are scheduled to arrive in Chicago Saturday morning and take a light work-out on Lake Michigan before leaving for New York, to arrive there Sunday.

"We'll bring home a title," promised Coach Al Ulbrickson, to station full of students and crew enthusiasts. The varsity, now the "senior" combination, the Junior Varsity, who are the "sophomores" who rowed as the Varsity to defeat California by six feet early in the season, and the freshmen, all took light paddles yesterday before leaving.

The traveling party included: Varsity—Strokes, John York; No. 7, Walter Ratner; No. 8, Sig Lund; No. 9, James McKillian; No. 4, Bob Snider; No. 3, Walter Bates; No. 2, Charles Day; bow, Bob White; cox, Bob Koch; reserves—Bradley, McMichael and Brous Beck.

Junior Varsity — Strokes, Bud Schacht; No. 7, Roger Morris; No. 6, Bob Green; No. 5, Delos Schoch; No. 4, Charles Hartman; No. 3, Joe Rantz; No. 2, George Hunt; bow, George Lund; cox, Winslow Brooks.

Freshmen—Strokes, Don Rume; No. 7, Don Confield; No. 6, William Seaman; No. 5, Gordon Adams; No. 4, Don Coy; No. 3, Merton Hatch; No. 2, John White; bow, Bob Murray; cox, Earl Schenck; reserves, Walter Deikman and Sam Meyers.

With them are Coaches Ulbrickson and Tom Hollis; George Pocock, shell builder; Earl Clark, trainer, and Jim Mueller, student manager.

FATHERS LOSE MATCH TO SONS
Sons defeated the fathers in the annual St. Michael's School cricket match at Oak Bay Park. The margin was three runs, 58 to 55. Manning got 25 for the fathers and Gillespie 15. E. Gillespie took four of the fathers' wickets for 19, and A. Gillespie three for 10.

Basset knocked up 23 for the boys, while Major Turner took two sons' wickets for no runs, and Milton two for two runs.

New York, June 6.—Buying attention in to-day's stock market was centred principally in silver mining issues and specialties. Elsewhere the list profit-taking accounted for moderate recessions, but there were few especially weak spots. The close was somewhat irregular, transfers approximated 325,000 shares.

Most traders were cautious in expanding commitments pending further Washington developments. The news was not exciting although 500 leaders of the stock exchange predicted that the end of the year would be a wage and working hour codes under which they have been operating. Commodities were somewhat mixed. Cotton rallied, but grains were slow to follow. A number of secondary bonds improved. Foreign exchange held to a restrictive group. Minors dropped back from their best levels when imported silver at New York was reduced $\frac{1}{8}$ cent to 20 1/2.

ALBERTA CROP IS LATEST ON RECORD

Canadian Press

Edmonton, June 6.—Establishing the latest record in Alberta's history, seeding of wheat was completed in most districts of the province by June 1, states the Alberta government crop report issued yesterday.

In a few localities in the territory northwest and west of Edmonton, where the land got no opportunity of drying thoroughly, wheat seeding has been practically abandoned for the season and the crop will be replaced by coarse grains. Seeding of coarse grains is from 50 per cent to 80 per cent completed.

Toronto, June 6.—Gold shares took the bumps on the mining exchange to-day and base metals were barely firm. Silvers did little better than hold their ground although New York silver listings were buoyant for a time.

Pioneer and Bralorne was subjected to a selling attack and the latter dropped to the low for the month at 6.36, down 55 cents and Pioneer at 9.85 was down 30 cents. Lake Shore and McIntyre weakened $1 to $1.50 each and Teck Hughes slipped back a few cents.

DUNWELL GETS SMELTER RETURNS

The returns from these shipments are now rapidly rectifying the difficult situation created by the severe freeze-up in the early part of the year when the whole plant was practically rendered inoperative.

Several thousand tons of ore are now in the stopes and this is what is being forwarded for smelter treatment.

acterized the island group's offering of two difficult selections "a truly excellent piece or work." He awarded each artist 172 marks out of a possible 200.

The David Spencer Choir of Victoria was second with 168 marks and the Victoria Group of Vancouver, third with 167.

The two test selections were "With Jockey to the Fair," by Gordon Jacobs and "Orpheus With His Lyre," by Edward German.

Expressing keen appreciation of the singing of all three choirs, Dr. Slater said: "It was a concert after my own heart. Such singing brings joy to an adjudicator's heart."

Remainder of yesterday evening's programme was taken up with the under-ten-years piano playing competition in which Vancouver entries captured all firsts.

The winning choir was conducted by C. W. Wain. The success of the two Victoria choirs was the more

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—I am a girl of sixteen. My parents have told me that I cannot play ball this summer. The only reason they give for forbidding me to indulge in this, which is my favorite sport, is that I am a girl. I am never permitted to go places while my brother, who is only a year older than I am, goes wherever he pleases. Every Monday we have a club social. If I come in later than 10 o'clock I have to stay in for two whole weeks, while my younger brothers never get a bawling out, even if they come in at 10.30 o'clock. But they are boys. I am good-looking and would be popular if my father and mother did not think that I should be kept at home all the time because I am a girl. Why wasn't I born a boy? MAIDIE.

Answer—Millions of other women who have felt themselves hampered at every step by their sex have asked that same question, Maidie, but none of them has ever gotten an answer that helped any.

For if you are born a girl, you are a girl, and you are simply out of luck. As long as you live there will be millions of things that you want to do and can't do for no other reason than that you are a woman. And there will be other millions of things that you won't want to do and that you will have to do, just for the same reason. You are a woman.

This is a man's world and the men get all the best of it, and that is a fact that cannot be altered. The only thing that women can do is just accept it and not wear themselves out in rebellion against it. They are always trying to do it and they are always beaten in the end, because you can't out-smart Nature.

When women go into men's occupations we make a great to-do about it, but even when they are first-rate steno-typers or steely climbers for women, they are still second-raters as men. They are like what Johnson said about the dancing dog. "The wonder was not that the dog danced so well, but that it danced at all." You hear of women ball pitchers, but there are no female Babe Ruths. And probably, if you would admit the truth, your small brother is a better ballplayer than you are.

So, if you want to make a success of your life, just give up deploring the fact that you were not born a boy and make the most of yourself as a girl. There is sound sense in the old adage that advises us to stick to our last, and you will find that the women who have achieved most in the world are those who capitalized their sex and worked along the lines of their hereditary aptitudes. The most famous actresses are those who interpret feminine roles; the most popular women writers are those who reflect the woman's point of view; the business women who make the most money are those who keep boarding houses and beauty shops and who are designers and buyers of women's and children's clothes.

But restricted as women's opportunities are and hampered as they are socially, you can still thank God that you belong to this generation in which girls have far more freedom and far greater opportunities than they have ever had before.

Just think, when your grandmother was a girl she was never allowed to go out without a chaperon, or to talk to a boy unless mamma was in earshot. There were no athletic games. No outdoor sports. No free companionship between girls and boys as there is now. No painful occupations open to a girl. Nothing she could look forward to except marriage and settling down even more than she was already settled.

But now you have a thousand amusements, a thousand opportunities to do things even if you can't do all that boys do.

Your father and mother are quite right to keep an eye upon you, though I don't see any reason why they shouldn't let you play ball if the other girls in your community do, but they are wrong in not giving you a reasonable amount of liberty and letting you have enough fun to keep you from envying your brothers.

DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—How long must a man wait after his wife's death before he marries again? I am very much in love with a woman and want to marry her, but she thinks we should wait a year. Do you think it necessary? ANONYMOUS.

Answer—Not necessary, of course, but a matter of good taste. Custom has made it conventional for a man to wait a year after his wife's death before he remarries, and a man breaks this unwritten law to his discredit. People think a little less of him if he does, and feel that he should have paid that much respect to his wife's memory.

Nevertheless many men do marry sooner. Many notables have married a few months after their wives' deaths, so if you choose to hurry up your wedding you have distinguished precedents.

Uncle Wiggily and the Funny Tail

By HOWARD B. GARIS

One day when the Fox and the Wolf went to call on the Bob Cat in his woodland den, they found the Bob Cat sitting under a tree, looking very queer.

"You are rather late with your spring cleaning, aren't you?" asked the Fox.

"I'm not doing my spring cleaning," answered the Bob Cat. "I'm waiting for

"What are you doing, then?" asked the Wolf. "I am making a trap to catch Uncle

Wiggily," moved the Bob Cat. "I made of turkey feathers, didn't you, Fox?"

"Yes, I did, and so it is, it's made from

of turkey feathers, didn't you, Fox?"

"Right," moved the Bob Cat. "And this feather duster is going to become my tail for a while."

"Goodness knows you need some sort of a tail," laughed the Wolf, "for your own silly little legs are larger than a baby's thumb."

"Don't make fun of my tail!" snarled the Bob Cat. "I can't help it. Maybe you won't laugh so much when you find I have caught Uncle Wiggily by this feather duster which I am going to pretend is a tail."

"How are you going to do it?" asked the

Fox. "I'll wait until Uncle Wiggily comes to the Bob Cat. Taking the feather duster in his paw, he crept down and hid it under the log on which he was sitting.

"Now doesn't that look like a tail sticking up?" asked the Bob Cat.

"Well, yes, it does," admitted the Wolf.

"But I still don't see how you are going to catch Uncle Wiggily with it," said the

Fox. "I am going out in the woods," said the Bob Cat, "and hide behind a stump or log near the path Uncle Wiggily takes every day when he goes adventuring. When he sees the feather duster sticking up above the log or stump, Uncle Wiggily will think his friend Mr. Turkey Gobbler is sitting there. The rabbit will come close to speak to the turkey and I'll catch him!

I jump up and grab Uncle Wiggily."

"It sounds like a good trick," agreed the Wolf. "But maybe Uncle Wiggily, even if he sees the duster, and thinks his turkey friend is hiding close behind the log, will not come close enough for you to grab him."

"Oh, yes," said the Bob Cat. "I'll grab him like a turkey. Listen!"

"He then gobbled like a turkey."

"Well, try your luck and tell us about it," said the Fox.

The Bob Cat, taking the feather duster, ran to the woods and hid behind a log out of sight. He held the duster so that it looked like the tail of a turkey sticking up above the log. Pretty soon along came

Uncle Wiggily.

"Ah, ha!" said the rabbit gentleman as he saw the feathers, "there is my friend

Mr. Turkey Gobbler behind that log. I'll hop over and speak to him." Looking through a crack in the log, the Bob Cat saw the rabbit coming toward where he was hidden.

"Now is the time for me to gobble," thought the Bob Cat. He opened his mouth to gobble, but he was so excited he forgot what he was doing and so he went, "Gobble!

Gobble! Gobble!" Instead of "Gobble! Gobble!"

Gobble! suddenly stopped and said to himself:

"But there is some trick here! A turkey gobbler doesn't move like the Bob Cat.

I'm going to hop away! So he did, and though the Bob Cat, dropping the trick feather duster, ran after the rabbit, he couldn't catch him. Mr. Leverage got safely away. What's the Bob Cat's trick?

HOROSCOPE

"The stars incline, but do not compel."

FRIDAY, JUNE 7, 1935

Astrologers read this as an uncertain day in planetary direction. Plans of business may be disturbed by labor difficulties.

Resignations and changes among cabinet members and administration heads are prophesied for Washington. Where the summer is to develop avoid that belong to comedy as well as tragedy.

Women are fortunate under this planetary sign, but must not presume upon their luck. To the well-qualified will belong good fortune in the shape of world-wide positions.

This is a day when young men will be only young men in romance.

It is probable that they will be more in love with themselves than with their girl friends.

This is a day when young women who are being graduated from the universities this month are under a configuration promising successful careers.

Those who begin ocean voyages under this planetary government are fortunate, but they may expect eventful days in which there will be much that is unexpected and not on the itinerary of the vacation trip.

Warning is given that this month there may be a movement to establish a

Parliament in the United States. Politics will be more and more muddled as 1935 draws near, the stars foretell.

Spies will multiply among Americans, who should beware of misjudging their fellow men and women. Many appear to be thinking, but they will not achieve any dangerous opinions.

Persons whose birthday is June 7, 1935 have the augury of a year of fairly good fortune, but much in the line of temporary perplexities.

Children born on this day probably will be studious and executive. Subjects of sign usually are exceedingly painstaking and conscientious.

Franklin Goucher, college president, was born on this day, 1844. Byron

David Malton, dramatist, also celebrated this as a birthday, 1822.
